

Outagamie Will Question Officials On New UW Site

Summons to be Served Today On Schrantz, Johnson, Galbraith

Summons were to be served today on three state officials in order to give Outagamie County officials an opportunity to publicly question them on the selection of a northeast Green Bay site for the northeastern branch of the University of Wisconsin.

County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath said the county Tuesday afternoon filed a document calling for the appearance of Roger Schrantz, State Building Commission secretary; Walter K. Johnson, state planner, and James Galbraith, state architect, at public discovery proceedings in Dane County.

The action is being brought by Outagamie County and Russell DeLaHunt, George E. Greenwood, Gerhard K. Willecke and Clarence A. Mitchell, Appleton mayor, as individuals.

The summonses order the three officials to appear April 4 and 5 before Dane County Court Commissioner Kenneth M. Orchard in Madison.

Additional Data

At the discovery proceedings, the state officials will be asked by Outagamie County legal counsel for additional information regarding the selection of the Green Bay site.

Schrantz will appear at 1:30 p.m. April 4, and Galbraith will appear at 9 a.m. April 5, and Johnson at 1:30 p.m.

Ponath said that summonses will also be served on other state officials including the members of the State Building Commission and those administrators concerned with the disbursement of funds for the university.

Committee Advice

A Site Selection Committee Feb. 25 recommended the Shorewood site in northeast Green Bay for the new university.

Outagamie County hopes to block spending of $400,000 by the State Building Commission for preliminary planning, surveys and architectural design.

The county is interested in obtaining all facts.

VP Home Bill Passes House, Before Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate over which Hubert H. Humphrey presides will decide the fate of a bill to provide an official residence for Humphrey and his successors as vice president.

By a partisan vote of 197 to 184, the House passed a bill Tuesday calling for expenditure of $750,000 to build a "little White House" on 10 acres of government-owned land on the grounds of the Naval Observatory.

Only six Republicans voted for the measure.

The Senate passed last year a bill to create a commission to study the need for a vice-presidential residence and report within 18 months its recommendations for a site.

The House measure would permit construction of the home in time for Humphrey to occupy it before his term expires in January 1969. He lives now in suburban Chevy Chase, Md.

Plains States Hit By Spring Blizzard

Six Deaths Blamed on Storm In Nebraska, Wyoming, Dakota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A roaring spring blizzard whipped through the Plains states today, leaving behind deep snows which were whirled into drifts by biting winds.

Six deaths were attributed to the blizzard: three in Nebraska, two in Wyoming and one in South Dakota.

Much of South Dakota's Black Hills had up to two feet of snow.

Winds measured at 50 to 70 miles per hour swirled across Nebraska Tuesday and Tuesday night. All roads were treacherous and were impassable in central and western areas.

School Bus

Twenty-nine children, a driver and a teacher spent the night huddled in blankets in a stalled school bus between Ord and Loup City in central Nebraska.

At O'Neill in the same area, an expectant mother finally reached a hospital via a wreck after two cars tried to get her to a hospital and both became stalled.

Many power and telephone lines were down in the central and northern areas as up to 10 inches of snow fell.

Eppler Field in Omaha, Neb., was blacked out by a power failure Tuesday night and all outgoing flights were canceled. There were many power breaks in the Omaha metropolitan area.

No Visibility

Strong winds lashed New Mexico and blew dust so hard that visibility dropped to zero at times. Temperatures dropped 31

Wisconsin Man Held in Fatal Chicago Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — Six Chicago residents, including four sisters, were killed Tuesday in a flaming car-truck collision on Chicago's rain-soaked Kennedy Expressway.

The victims were: Mrs. Bertha Sterling, 24, the mother of two; and her sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Cravens, 26, mother of two; Mrs. Rose Lee McGrady, 22, and Miss Shirley Washington, 19.

Mrs. Nannce Dyson, 42, mother-in-law of Mrs. McGrady, was injured.

Curtis Wallace, 50, driver of the car. All were in a car that was struck in the rear by a truck driven by Maurice Atkinson, 28, of Trevor, Wis., who was not injured. He was charged with reckless homicide and driving too fast for conditions.

Johnson Warns Allies France Imperils NATO

President Expresses Confidence 14 Nations Will Preserve Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson warned the Atlantic Allies today that President Charles de Gaulle's efforts to reform their alliance could imperil the security of France and endanger the safety of the Western world.

While he expressed confidence that the United States and 13 allies will stick together to preserve NATO, without France if necessary, Johnson said:

"If our collective effort should falter — and our common determination be eroded — the foundations of the alliance's present stability would be shaken."

Not Mentioned

Johnson never mentioned De Gaulle by name in his first public response by him since the French president served notice three weeks ago that he intends to pull his military forces out of NATO, oust NATO military headquarters from France and recover control of U.S. and Allied NATO bases on French territory.

Johnson spoke at the State Department to an audience of Foreign Service officers. Twenty-four hours earlier he had sent a personal message to De Gaulle, responding to an earlier letter from De Gaulle setting forth De Gaulle's policies on the future of NATO.

The split between Johnson and De Gaulle on the NATO issue is complete. De Gaulle wants to dismantle the NATO military system and preserve only the Atlantic Alliance pledge of 15 allies to help each other in case of attack. Johnson said the military system is an essential part of deterring aggression.

Work Together Johnson said NATO reform should be accomplished by the Allies working together, seeking to improve rather than to dismantle the defense system.

"Consultation, not isolation, is the route to reform," he said. It was evident his reference to "isolation" was meant to apply to De Gaulle.

The chief executive said at the outset that "we do not believe there is any righteousness in standing pat" on NATO.

He added: "If any organization is alive and vital — if it is to have meaning for all time as well as for any particular time

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today rejected a Soviet invitation to attend the world Communist party convention in Moscow this month.

The Chinese Communist party rejection was in answer to a letter dated Feb. 24 from the Soviet Communist party.

Contents of the Chinese letter dated March 22 were broadcast by the official New China News Agency.

Appeal for Peace, Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A the Church of Canterbury," Pope of the Roman Catholic Pope Paul VI told Dr. Michael Ramsey, primate of the world's 45 million Anglicans.

The Pope called the meeting in the Vatican's Sistine Chapel "a great day" in history and said it had meaning "for peace among the nations of the world and for promotion of Christian brotherhood among men."

Appeal for Peace

"I have come with the longing in my heart, which I know to be in your heart also, that we may by our meeting together help in the fulfillment of the prayer of our divine Lord that all His disciples may come to unity in the truth," Dr. Ramsey said.

He said he was joining his voice to Pope Paul's appeal for an end to war in the world.

It was the first official meeting between an Archbishop of Canterbury and a Pope since King Henry VIII separated the Church of England from Rome in 1534. Today's meeting was preceded by a brief courtesy call by Dr. Ramsey's predecessor, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, on his 87-2 approval Tuesday, adding a minor amendment.

The amendment would limit the House is expected to give final congressional approval and send to President Johnson today an emergency $13.1-billion appropriation bill to help pay for the stepped-up war in Viet Nam.

The bill's money figure — the exact amount requested by the President — is not in dispute. The House voted the funds last week but the Senate, in giving its 87-2 approval Tuesday, added a minor amendment.

The amendment would limit the Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's authority to transfer funds in support of South Vietnamese and other Allied troops.

But charity can, and must, come from now on be exercised between us, and show forth its mysterious and prodigious strength," the Pope said.

"It is my hope, and the hope of Your Holiness, too, that there may be increasing dialogue," Dr. Ramsey said.

The two met in the 16th century chapel where the Pope was elected in June 1963. It was the first time the pontiff had used the chapel to receive a visitor.

There was a deep hush in the chapel, as the 68-year-old pontiff and the 61-year-old archbishop rose from their chairs, turned to each other and embraced.

Oppose Saigon Rule

New Demonstrations Crop Up in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — New antigovernment demonstrations erupted in Da Nang and Hue today, intensifying the political dispute between Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime and the Buddhist leadership. For the first time there were anti-American overtones.

Ten thousand persons milled about the city hall in Hue, the old imperial capital. Some carried banners attacking the United States for supporting Ky's military rule.

However, one knot of demonstrators carried a banner saying: "We thank our American friends for helping us fight the Viet Cong."

Locked Doors American and Vietnamese employees at the nearby U.S. Information Service building hastily locked doors and hid equipment as rumors flew that the demonstrators might sack the center.

Two thousand persons attended an antigovernment rally in Da Nang amid another general strike that closed most shops in the northern military center.

The flurry of new agitation for ouster of the Saigon government took the spotlight from the fighting fronts. Another 100 bodies were found today by U.S. Marines at the scene of their battle with two Communist battalions about 70 miles south of Da Nang on Monday.

Blizzard Proportions

Midwestern Storm Lashes Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Green Bay had 86 and Beloit 70.

A spring snowstorm rapidly developing into blizzard proportions lashed into western Wisconsin today.

The Weather Bureau warned that similar conditions would spread across the state by tonight.

Winds were gusting to 50 miles an hour as the temperatures sagged to the mid and upper 20s. The four to six inches of snow that fell in the pre-dawn hours forced the closing of Interstate 94 from Eau Claire to Hudson in St. Croix County. Sander trucks were stuck on the highway. Highway 12 from Eau Claire to Black River Falls was barely passable this morning with zero visibility. The State Traffic Patrol said: "You can't see anything."

Roads Closed

Rural roads in Eau Claire County were closed.

Winds in the western part of Wisconsin were blowing steadily at 20 miles per hour today and were expected to increase to as much as 40 during the day and tonight.

The center of the storm area that was whipping through the upper Midwest was in southwestern Wisconsin this morning.

Heavy lightning and thunder accompanied the snow in many areas along the storm front. And there was considerable rain in the southern part of Wisconsin prior to the arrival of snow.

La Crosse had 1.60 inches of liquid precipitation by daybreak today. The southwestern area near Dubuque, Iowa, recorded 1.10 inches. Lone Rock and lieve the new leaders are far

Change Sweeps Indonesia

EDITOR'S NOTE—Stanley M. Swinton, an assistant general manager of The Associated Press, first went to Indonesia in early 1946 and headed The AP's Jakarta office in 1946-47 during the Indonesian fight for independence. Tuesday he was one of the first American newsmen admitted to the country since President Sukarno expelled U.S. news representatives Jan. 19.

BY STANLEY M. SWINTON JAKARTA (AP) — The wind of fundamental change apparently is sweeping across Indonesia.

President Sukarno officially remains chief of state, but army Lt. Gen. Suharto and his military allies hold the real power. The best-informed sources in this hot and humid capital believe the new leaders are far more than a military junta. They expect Suharto and his colleagues to install a primarily civilian government with powerful military backing behind the scenes.

Internationally, Indonesia's new regime is expected to be neutralist in deed as well as in word. Sukarno gave lip service to neutralism but moved steadily toward the Chinese Communist camp. The new Indonesia is expected to follow the type of international role played by the late Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Restore Economy

Men long on the scene here predict that in the years immediately ahead, Indonesia's new leaders will dedicate themselves to restoring the nation's shattered economy.

Food is the immediate problem. Rice is the staple for Indonesia's more than 105 million people. Today it costs 30 times what it did 14 months ago.

The rains came late this year, so the rice harvest will not take place until May, a month late. In the chaos of the last year, transport was disrupted, so that rice shortages have been aggravated in the cities and in such densely populated rural areas as Central and East Java.

So far Indonesia's new leaders have not asked for outside assistance to meet the growing food shortage. When they do, they are likely to turn to Japan or some other similar nation, rather than to the United States or the Soviet Union.

Avoid Criticism

Worst of Middle Age Is Loss of Dream Life

NEW YORK (AP) — Only in purrs up beside him. A long-haired blonde with a face of ruinous beauty leans out and says, "Hi there, sweet stuff! How about going for a little ride with little ole me?" He slides into the seat next to her, the car roars off and —

Girls, I suppose, dream of looking beautiful in a bridal veil and dwelling happily ever after in a 36-room, rose-covered cottage with a tall, dark handsome man who grows even handsomer with the passing years.

Boys and young men don't dream about marriage. They dream about high adventure, easy money and quick romances.

Every young fellow dreams of going alone into no man's land and safely bringing back a lost afraid will happen to us.

Every young fellow dreams of floating through the air and now dreams of someone in the I had one the other night. I reaching down and picking up handfuls of silver dollars strewn along the sidewalk, free for the taking.

Every young fellow dreams of walking down a dark street, suddenly a long black roadster her husband's ears as if they block.

He doesn't want to hear them. He is all worn out. Bad dreams have kept him flopping like a fish all night. And what did he dream of? He dreamed of financial woes, losing his job, or work problems at the office.

In the dream most typical of a middle-aged man he is hanging from a cliff ledge by a tiny sapling. He boss is hacking at the er with the passing years. They lose their brightness and their laurel leaves. They be-roots with an ax, laughing maniacally, and yelling: "Ask me and couldn't possibly inter-est any other person except a you!"

These are what I call non-dreams.

We no longer dream of what sense dreams. For we all have: We would like to have happen to troubles, enough, while awake. We dream of what we are. Why dream up more?

Now and then, however, in a non-dream, the wife who middle age one does get a sense dream that makes sense. I dreamed my wife turned into a mermaid.

"Was I a pretty mermaid?" asked Frances when I told her about it the next morning.

"The prettiest in the entire world," I said.

"What did you do then?"
"I put you in the bathtub, called the circus, sold you for all day."

While the Marines hunted down the Reds in the coastal rice fields, U.S. Air Force F-105 Thunderchiefs and F-4 Phantom jets returned to the Muija Pass in North Viet Nam, where the highway death toll to 170. At the fighter bombers caught a stalled convoy of 50 trucks Monday. On their return, the jets sighted another 20 camouflaged vehicles parked on Route 15 and dive-bombed them. There was no report of results.

Pathfinder Lost
An Air Force spokesman said an F100 Pathfinder jet was lost 32 miles west of Vinh and the two crewmen were listed as missing in action. F105 pilots accompanying the Pathfinder said there was no ground fire at the time and they spotted no parachutes.

The U.S. Strategic Air Command's B52s returned to South Viet Nam's Tay Ninh Province this morning to hit suspected Communist troop encampments less than two miles from the Cambodian frontier. Intelligence officers had reported one to three battalions of North Vietnamese regulars and Viet Cong in the area 75 miles northwest of Saigon.

Gaulle. Johnson added that any NATO nation could still imperil her own security by creating a situation in which response would be too late and too diluted. He said this could be done not by the action of her friends but by her own decision to prepare and plan alone.

De Gaulle Letter

Johnson, who responded to De Gaulle Tuesday in a letter not made public, said the United States is determined to work with 13 other nations.

France, he said, is excluded by her own choice — to preserve and to strengthen the deterrent strength of NATO and two air squadrons in Germany. Johnson's message Tuesday constituted a detailed reply to a message which De Gaulle sent him March 7. He gave a preliminary response at that time saying that the problems which De Gaulle had raised would have to be dealt with not by the United States and France alone but by the entire 15-nation alliance.

Subsequently, De Gaulle sent word of his decision to other allied governments and published a note in which he set forth his major plans — to remove France's two divisions

France. Some kind of new arrangements will have to be made for continuing French forces in Germany or those forces presumably will have to be withdrawn.

NATO Supply

As a consequence of De Gaulle's position, U.S. officials say that the NATO supply system and other installations now located to provide continuing support for the allied forward forces in Germany.

NATO military commands will have to be set up outside

White House.

Last week the 14 NATO governments apart from France issued a declaration of solidarity the effect of which to make clear their rejection of De Gaulle's position, although the statement was so carefully worded that it avoided any mention of De Gaulle or his breakaway plan. The declaration was released in Washington by the Roommates Found Slain In Quincy, Ill.

QUINCY, Ill. (AP) — Two young women employees of a gas company and roommates were found slain Tuesday about 12 hours apart, the coroner's office reported. Both had been stabbed and shot.

The body of Judith Ann Greening, 22, a clerk-stenographer, was found lying face down in a ditch along a backcountry road about three miles South of Quincy Tuesday morning.

The body of Donetta Pickens, 19, also a clerk-stenographer for a propane gas firm, was found Tuesday night in the trunk of her automobile in a residential section of Quincy.

The car was found about a mile from the girls' apartment where they had last been seen alive at 7 p.m. Monday.

Coroner Gerald Points said that both girls had been stabbed several times and both had been shotgun blasts.

Pollution in Door County Threatens Tourist Industry

Post-Crescent News Service

Door County has special pollution problems that present a serious threat to its economically important tourist and vacation industry.

Much of the beautiful peninsula has only a thin soil cover over solid limestone base which is not conducive to septic tank waste treatment.

Processing of the huge cherry crop leaves wastes which are stubbornly resistant to ordinary methods of treatment.

Tourists Aggravate Problem
Pollution of the waters of Green Bay will affect the offshore areas on the western side of the peninsula if it is not arrested. Even now, it is reported, there are occasions when wastes from the industrial cities to the south drive game fish away.

And the fact that people by the thousands come to enjoy the scenic and recreational assets of Door County in itself aggravates the county's pollution problems.

But Door County has a number of things working in its favor in the pollution fight. Chief of them is a growing awareness that problems exist and the conviction that something can be done about them.

Door County as a professional planner and a sanitarian who are directly concerned with water pollution. It is the only county in the state with a health department operating under the commission plan.

New Ordinance
They have a new ordinance which specifies requirements on septic tanks. It was noted by Dr. George M. Shimmers, district health officer.

Philip Woerfel, a native of Door County is the sanitarian. "I have noticed a decline in fishing," he stated. "There is a great deal more algae growth, not only in the inland lakes but even at Little Sturgeon, Horse shoe Bay, Murphy Park and the City of Sturgeon Bay."

Woerfel expressed the opinion that the old fashioned privies often are more sanitary than some of the septic tanks installed in Door County.

Thin soil

The soil is so thin, especially in the northern half that filter beds are ineffective, he pointed out. "In many places the soil is only six inches deep or even less."

Efficient septic tanks can run high in cost for Door County. Special provisions must be made for the filter out sump, summer cottage development along the shores relying entirely on septic tanks.

Separation of solids is about the average outlay.

North of Sturgeon Bay, where most of the tourists stop there, Sturgeon Bay is one of the relatively few communities with complete storm sewer separation.

Sturgeon Bay has sewage treatment facilities which are judged to be adequate for most of the year. Trouble develops in summer, however, when the cherry processing plants are running.

of the peninsula having the greater problem.

"With an influx of 50,000 people on a weekend, we must be concerned," he observed.

There is need for more research on septic tanks and other systems, and in the field of water pollution generally.

Knepper and Woerfel both noted that there may be possibilities for Door County in the aerobic system of treating domestic sewage. The process employs oxygen in breaking down wastes, while septic tanks are airtight.

The problem at present with aerobic facilities according to Dr. Shimmers, is that they require regular attention while the average household is unlikely to give them.

People Are Worried
Knepper observed that people in general are becoming worried about pollution but that there still is not enough personal responsibility.

"Everybody seems to be trying to pass the buck," he said.

"Everybody is contributing to the pollution problem here, yet looking to the south to the Fox Valley industries and cities as the major contributors."

Dr. John G. Beck is the Door County health commissioner serving on a part-time basis. Woerfel, the sanitarian, works full time.

Pope Vows Firm Stand on Birth Control

Pontiff Directs Commission to Prepare Suggestions

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI wants to give cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church some firm indication of the Church's stand on birth control on a bare rock ledge with a by June 24 Vatican sources said today.

The sources said the Pope has told the theologians on his birth control commission to cancel all their other work after Easter to prepare recommendations for June 24 is the Pope's name day on which the cardinals in Rome traditionally call on him to give him best wishes.

On the same day last year in a major speech to the cardinals Pope Paul urged the birth control commission to speed up its work. He formed it June 24, 1964.

Earlier this month in another effort to prod the deadlocked commission to a conclusion the Pope appointed seven cardinals and seven bishops to the commission giving it wider geographical representation and increased authority.

Most of the 57 members already on the commission are doctors, sociologists, marriage specialists and theologians.

Members of the commission have been unable to agree on whether to recommend that the Roman Catholic Church retain its ban on all mechanical and chemical means of contraception, allow limited use of birth control pills, or allow general use of contraceptives.

Pope Paul has repeatedly said that until the commission reaches a decision and he approves it, Roman Catholics are obliged to obey their Church's prohibition of chemical or mechanical means of contraception.

U. S. Newsmen Returning to Indonesia Report Changes

turning either toward the Americans or the Soviets.

When the food crisis has been surmounted, Indonesia's leaders must face the herculean task of rebuilding the whole economy. While the economies of other nations have been growing, the per capita gross national product in Indonesia has declined between one and two per cent each year for a decade.

Meanwhile, Indonesia's population has been growing at an estimated 2.5 per cent a year.

No Birth Control
The 1,000 luxuriant islands which make up the Indonesian Archipelago, basically are underpopulated. But Java, with seven per cent of Indonesia's land area, has 70 per cent of the population. Tied to their fabled island by history and tradition, only a few thousand Javanese emigrate to the sparsely populated outer islands. In Central Java, one of the most densely inhabited areas on earth, population growth is a staggering 2.7 per cent a year.

Unlike India where government birth control program is slowly beginning to show some results, nothing has been done in Indonesia to reduce population growth.

Indonesia's new leaders recognize that their overwhelming problem is to build an economy which can feed the exploding population and give each Indonesian more of the material benefits so long denied him.

Ever since the Japanese army of occupation installed him as Indonesia's leader during World War II, Sukarno has been the man who symbolized independence in the minds of Indonesia's masses.

Man does not live by bread alone, the aging Bung — Big Brother — Karno would shout as he played his role of father of the nation orator and oracle.

Not Slogans, Either
But man does not live by slogans alone either. The fierce appeals to nationalism which brought cheers and devotion 20 years ago faded with repetition. Foreign aid — mainly from the United States and the Soviet Union — propped up an incredibly disorganized economy. But then foreign aid ran out, too.

It was the young people of Indonesia — university and high school students — who went into the streets to drive an effort to wedge between Sukarno and the people who had for so many years idolized him.

The student movement represents the best in Indonesian youth according to people long stationed here. They say that the students who led the demonstrations will be the leaders of Indonesia tomorrow. They were willing to risk their lives to insure Indonesia's future.

Western States Join To Tap Three Rivers

By RALPH DIGHTON
LOS ANGELES (AP) — After half a century of squabbling over the Colorado River's increasingly vital water, seven Western states are about to get together on a plan to tap one of the major rivers of three other states.

The plan could eventually cost more than $12 billion.

"This is not just a regional problem," a water expert says. "The rest of the country will eat better if the West works out an equitable way of dividing its water."

The plan envisions:
1. Immediate start on construction of a $1.2-billion project to move Colorado River water southward to Arizona's booming Phoenix and Tucson areas.
2. Eventual construction of an aqueduct linking the heavily used Colorado with either the little-exploited Columbia River, which has 10 times the Colorado's flow, or its closer tributary, the Snake River. Hookup with the Columbia would cost $11 billion, with the Snake $4 billion.

The big hitch, of course, is opposition from Washington and Oregon, which border on the Columbia, and Idaho, through which the Snake flows.

Arizona Project
Representatives of the seven Colorado River basin states — Colorado, Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, California, Utah, and Mexico, agreed at a meeting here Jan. 27 on most of the technical language of a bill to be submitted to the House subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation.

The proposed legislation calls for a quick start on the big central Arizona project, and also for a massive survey of ways to channel additional water into the Colorado so that other users of that river, primarily California, will have enough for their growing populations too.

The legislation would not call for joining the Colorado with the Columbia or the Snake — feasibility of that is left for the survey to determine. But most water experts say the Columbia and the Snake are about the only sources big enough to give the Colorado's users the amount of water they need.

The Jan. 27 agreement was a major accomplishment. It meant that the Colorado basin states were ready to stop quarreling amongst themselves over how to split up the dwindling waters of the Colorado — and start looking for ways of increasing the Colorado's flow.

Federal Funding

The Colorado basin's plan would require some form of federal funding, thus taxing even the citizens of distant states, but proponents say it holds the key to future prosperity of a vast area consuming a large portion of those states' products.

This is not, of course, the lure held out to the little-industrialized Northwestern states. Advocates of the Colorado basin plan hope to overcome their opposition to tapping the Columbia or Snake rivers by:

1. Including irrigation and power projects which the Northwest sorely needs.

2. Pointing out the pump-priming effect of spending billions on construction of the aqueduct, which could be up to 1,000 miles long.

Although some may regard the conflict as just one more squabble over water in the West, its outcome will affect the whole country.

Some experts believe the West Coast someday will be the center of the United States' population. California is already the most populous state in the Union. And the major source of water for its new millions — the Colorado — is dwindling. Once estimated to have an annual flow of 18 million acre feet, in recent years it has dropped as low as 12 million. And of this the United States has guaranteed at least 1.5 million will flow down into Mexico.

Athletic Club Begins Planning Clintonville Sportsman Day Event

CLINTONVILLE — The Athletic Club has started planning for a Sportsman Day celebration scheduled July 3.

The family outing is being planned so that it will not interfere with the Embarrass July 4 celebration.

The day will include boat racing, canoe racing, Little League baseball tournament, softball tournament, a tug-o-war, a greased pig contest and fireworks.

Proceeds from the event will be used to teach Little Leaguers the fundamentals of baseball. Four prizes, including a color television, motor bike, an electric stove and a refrigerator, will be awarded.

Blind Operators Set Precedent With Food Stand
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
A new vending stand business recently opened in the plant of the Northern Shoe Co. in Pulaski may be a precedent for the establishment of additional enterprises under the direction of blind operators, the State Division for the Blind said today.
There are now 17 vending stands operating with the assistance of the state agency throughout the state, most of them in public buildings. The new food concession business opened in the factory setting at Pulaski is the first of its kind and "with the high degree of efficiency and acceptance already achieved, it is hoped that this venture will prove a significant precedent," the agency said in its annual report.
Last year 16 of such stands, with 27 operators, recorded gross sales of nearly half a million dollars, and net earnings of $152,210. With some of the receipts put into reserve, the average monthly net earnings of the operators reached $475.

Fox Cities 'Included in State Work
Two Fox Cities area projects will be included in 17 highway development or improvement bids to be opened in Madison March 29.
An Outagamie County project will include grading, base course, two each for grading, bituminous surfacing, concrete and one railroad structure. In total there will be nearly 23 miles of base course, almost 11 miles of bituminous paving and the nearly seven miles of concrete surfacing in the program, all scheduled for this summer.

Higher Return Promised on Savings Bonds

$49 Billion Worth Of Certificates Held Free of Tax

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — For millions of Americans, the big news is that they'll be getting higher return on their $49 billion worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

The yield is being pushed a step closer to what some other forms of savings pay. And on the $41.5 billion of E bonds the income can be deferred for tax purposes, an asset that most other forms of savings can't offer.

The cost to the U.S. Treasury of financing the federal debt

Wednesday, March 23, 1966 The Post-Crescent A 15 will go up, but savers will get a reward long withheld.

Financial institutions have been waging a battle to attract more of the savers' dollars. The weapons were the raising of interest payments and some offerings of new types of savings.

While the yield of U.S. Savings Bonds held at 3.75 per cent, the banks and other financial institutions had little competition from that quarter.

Civilian Institutions
Bankers are wondering now if the boost to a 4.15 per cent yield on savings bonds will spark still higher interest payments on money left with civilian institutions.

The Treasury itself is paying up to 5 per cent on some of its securities, the marketable ones sold in large combinations, usually to financial institutions or corporations.

Commercial banks are forbidden to pay more than 4 per cent on ordinary savings accounts, readily withdrawable. But the rise in Savings Bonds rates may put pressure behind a drive to get the interest ceiling lifted.

And some of the larger commercial banks have been getting around the 4 per cent limit by offering a new type of investment — a savings certificate, applying to large deposits which can't be withdrawn for a fixed period. Interest payments on these new certificates vary across the land, but in a few cases have risen as high as 5 per cent.

Mutual savings banks, under different rules than the commercial banks, have mostly raised their dividend payments on money invested with them to 4.5 per cent.

Savings and loan associations also have been raising dividend payments — comparable to the interest paid on commercial bank time deposits — in recent months as the fight to get more funds intensified. Many, especially on the West Coast, now pay 4.85 per cent. A few have conditions under which the yield comes to 5 per cent.

Not since the 1920s have savers been able to get such returns.

Even so, other forms of investments have made inroads on savings accounts, or have attracted money that normally might have gone into such accounts.

Some of the big rise in trading volume on the stock exchanges in recent months is believed due to the urge for higher yields — in capital gains — which the lucky stock buyer might achieve. Savings account totals tend to slip when stock prices are rising fast.

Brisk Battle
It is into this brisk battle for dollars that the Treasury has moved with its hiking of interest returns. Savings Bond sales have been lagging and redemptions rising.

The Treasury hopes to get a lot of new money through bond sales now. It needs it to meet rising Viet Nam war costs.
And the consumer who buys a bond instead of spending his money for goods or services also may help in holding down the inflationary pressures that Washington worries about today.

The Law and You

Skier Usually Responsible For Accidents on Slopes

In the last few years the ski resort industry in Wisconsin has boomed. Students, office workers, housewives and executives had not properly divided the slopes in entire length of the adjacent drives on every winter weekend. Here they can retreat from their daily chores for their kind of fun and "relaxation." Moreover, family groups can ski together.

Skiing is an exciting sport, but it's also a dangerous one.
Thus the question: Who is responsible for injury at a ski resort? Usually, it is the skier himself.

The great majority of accidents on the ski slopes result from the natural conditions of the slopes themselves or the technique of the skier. As skiing is inherently a relatively dangerous sport, the courts have in the past only awarded damages to injured skiers when it has been shown that the accident was caused by conditions or activities set up by the operator of the resort which increased the danger. In a New York case, a man who resort industry in Wisconsin was hit by a sled was awarded damages because the operator had not properly divided the entire length of the adjacent slopes run from the ski slope.

Hit Rock

In other cases, skiers have lost. A man was injured when he hit a rock, but the operator showed that he had done all that could be reasonably expected to keep his slopes clear of obstacles, and the skier received no damages.
The resort owes you no more on the way up than it does on the way down. At a California resort, a woman brought suit after she was caught on a chair lift and dropped from a considerable height. The court ruled that the resort operator had not been negligent. She had tried to get off of the lift at the wrong time and her oversized parka had caught on the chair. To have won her suit, she needed to have shown that the operator had not properly cared for the device or herself.

Officials Cautious At Consideration For Atom Smasher

Stoughton One of Six Possible Sites for $375 Million Complex

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin will be six times more powerful than any now in existence. The accelerator will smash the protons into atoms and the result may shed new light on the nature of fundamental matter, perhaps even on the mysteries of life itself.

Practical effects on medicine and space travel as well as scores of other fields could be incalculable.

The project will attract 2,400 resident scientists and their families, resulting in the creation of an elite "city of brain."

Should Stoughton be chosen, it would be "a tremendous asset to the Midwest and Wisconsin," said Robben W. Fleming, chancellor of the University of Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin location was one of the six recommended by a special site selection committee of the National Academy of Sciences. Some 100 sites were originally in the running for the project with all but a handful of the 50 states submitting proposals.

Two of Wisconsin's strong points, the selection committee said, were its terrain and the science facilities at the University of Wisconsin.

5,000 More Men Listed In Viet Nam

CHICAGO (AP) — Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said today U.S. forces in South Viet Nam now total 220,000.

This is 5,000 more than the total listed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara three weeks ago. McNamara has said he has authorized an increase in Viet Nam to 235,000 men.

Vance, the Pentagon's second-ranking official, also disclosed that there are 111 confirmed battalions of North Vietnamese army regulars and hard-core Viet Cong veterans in South Viet Nam, totaling some 75,000 men.

This is six battalions more than the figure used by U.S. officials in talking to newsmen 13 days ago.

These officials predicted at the time that Communist strength in these hard-core, first-line units would rise to 155 battalions by the end of the year.

Vance used the new strength figures in a speech prepared for the 70th annual convention of the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association.

He discussed what he said is the administration's four-prong strategy designed:

"First to find, fight and destroy the Communist main force units."

"Second, to extend the area under positive government control, thus providing a security screen."

"Third, behind that screen, to proceed with the program of pacification; the program of rural reconstruction; the whole program of revolutionary development outlined at the Honolulu conference."

"And fourth, to interdict the infiltration of men and material."

U.S. authorities estimated recently that about 55 per cent of South Viet Nam's population of 16 million people are under the South Vietnamese government's positive control, another 25 per cent under Viet Cong domination and the remaining 20 per cent in contested status.

A Truck Plowed Into the front of a Nashville, Tenn., service station Tuesday, providing a mouthful for comic strip character Blondie, who's plugging "regular care for safety and savings." Police said three men drove into the station and parked the truck. Then one of them got in, started the motor and it rammed into the window. Two persons were injured slightly. (AP Wirephoto)

Senate Hears About Investigation Of Critics of GM Safety Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff listened to the private detective spin a yarn about the investigation of Ralph Nader. It involved no harassment, no intimidation, no attempt to defame, no following him around the country. No telephone harassment, no recordings, and no women.

Offered Apologies

Gillen drew laughter even from Roche as he told of some of his difficulties in trying to locate Nader, denied as "fantastic" that his gumshoes followed a reporter instead of Nader into a Senate Office Building and brushed off the fact that Capitol police had ordered them out of the building. But he offered his apologies to the Senate.

"That sort of thing can happen in any investigative organization," he said. "I am sure Sen. Kennedy knows this from his experience as attorney general when he was responsible for all government investigative agencies."

"I'm delighted you brought me in," said Kennedy.

The New York senator asked if Gillen wasn't actually carrying out a lie when in conducting the investigation he used the pretext that it was a pre-employment probe.

"Didn't that ever happen to you as attorney general?" asked Gillen.

"No, it didn't," said Kennedy.

The private investigator denied the investigation was, as Ribicoff contended, a smear or harassment of Nader, and Gillen complained, "I don't think it appropriate for me to come here and be smeared myself."

He said the effort of the investigation was to uncover every aspect of Nader's life that might be of value to the client.

But he was charged with showing a preoccupation with matters of sex in questioning of a friend of Nader.

Body of Boy Found in Sewage Pit

KENOSHA (AP) — A day-long search for a missing 9-year-old Kenosha County boy ended Tuesday night with the discovery of the boy's body in a sewage treatment pit near his home.

Allan Petrin, who had been missing since Monday afternoon, was a victim of accidental drowning, Coroner Edward Wavro ruled.

A companion told authorities Tuesday night that he had seen Allan fall into the 15-foot deep pit Monday.

Authorities said the boy had been afraid to tell anyone of the accident earlier.

About 50 persons, including Boy Scouts and sheriff's deputies, joined in the search for the third-grader, who had skipped school on Monday.

The privately operated pit is surrounded by a security fence, which the boys apparently climbed.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Hedging Inflation With Tax Hike Now Rejected by LBJ

Way Left Open For Possible Future Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has firmly rejected suggestions for an immediate tax increase as a hedge against inflation.

But he left the door open for a possible tax boost later if his administration feels it is needed.

"We don't want to act prematurely," Johnson told a news conference Tuesday. "We don't want to put on the brakes too fast."

Johnson cited signs of a slowdown in the economy — including a 17 per cent drop in housing starts during February — and said the administration wants to assess the effects of the recently signed tax measure before taking any new anti-inflationary steps.

This measure, designed to raise about $6 billion over the next 15 months, reimposed excise taxes which were reduced last Jan. 1, and will speed collections of corporate and personal income taxes.

In the impromptu news conference in his office, Johnson also:

— Named Robert W. Komer, formerly deputy special assistant to the president, as a special assistant on nonmilitary matters in Viet Nam. He will direct policies in such fields as education, medical care and social and economic reform.

— Said the United States is anxious for more contacts and exchanges with Red China but this won't occur until China's attitude changes.

— Remarked that the AFL-CIO has always been independent and should be. He was asked about the recent statements of George Meany, the AFL-CIO president, that the labor organization would ally itself in the future with neither major party.

— Called amusing claims of Republican leaders that the GOP will make big gains in the November congressional election. The President said he would give his advice in the election campaign if it were solicited but he has no fixed dates for any campaigning.

Dissection, Study Set For Retrieved H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The called in for various examinations of the bomb's components. They have probed the intricacies of a few other nuclear weapons which were damaged in plane crashes or merely dented in transporting.

Simple Matter

Getting into the bomb isn't a particularly complicated or ticklish matter. Its insides are bared by removal of bolted-on plates.

The scientists and technicians will be interested primarily in two things about the bomb: its safety features and structure.

Probably none of the weapon's parts will be used in another H-bomb.

Officials say that after all the poking and probing is through, the components probably will become little more than conversation pieces in scattered research labs.

Outagamie Bankers Honor County's 20 Top Farmers at Awards Program

GREENVILLE — Outagamie County's 20 town winners of the 10th annual Outagamie County Progressive Farmer Award Program were honored Tuesday by the County Bankers Association.

The annual program is coordinated with the Outagamie County Soil Improvement Association and Soil Conservation Service, a federal branch.

Committees from each town were selected earlier to serve as judges. Leo Martin, Black Creek heads the bankers while Fred Hoffman, Town of Deer Creek, heads the improvement association. Hoffman was one of the first town winners and has held the presidency since his organization was formed.

Winners by township and a review of their programs are:

Hogs, Cash Crops
Black Creek — Mr and Mrs Gordon Gorges own and operate a 246-acre farm on which cash cropping and hogs are the important enterprises. They have established a tile waterway and tile program for their farm to correct soil and erosion and drainage problems.

Bozina — Mr and Mrs Raymond Van Stratton have a 315-acre family farm with a beef-swine operation, market hogs per year, and cash crop cabbage. The Shiocton soil require drainage, pumping plant and surface drains, land smoothing and a cover crop. He was an early promoter in developing a community drainage program.

Deer Creek — Mr and Mrs Alton Lendevy have a 240-acre farm 130 of which are cropland, 30 milk cows which average almost 400 pounds butterfat, a surface drainage system on their silt soil, 12 acres permanent pasture and 61 acres of fenced woodland. He is a Federal Land Bank Association director.

Farm 220 Acres
Ellington — Mr and Mrs Harold Otis have been district cooperators since 1957, have 220 acres of which 190 is in cropland and six acres of fenced woodland. A mile of surface drains, 1,500 feet of tile have been installed, they raise cash crops and milk 39 cows.

Freedom — Mr and Mrs Ben Tremi have 100 acres and are renting another 65. He has been involved in two group tile drain programs, installed 9,700 feet of tile and 5,000 feet of surface drains. His 46 grade Holstein herd averages 435 pounds of butterfat.

Grand Chute — Mr and Mrs Andrew Vostets have a 60-acre farm which they acquired in 1950. Starting with two cows they built up a 34-head herd after he quit working in a mill. He remodelled the house and barn and installed surface drains.

Greenville — Mr and Mrs Herbert Brei started a surface drainage program on their 104-acre farm, their dairy herd has a DHIA production average of 517 pounds butterfat. He was named Outstanding Young Farmer by the Appleton Jaycees and was cited for an excellent management job.

Planted Trees
BUCHANAN — Mr and Mrs Peter Mischler operate a 199-acre farm, with 167 acres of cropland, 32 acres of strip cropping, 2,000 feet of surface drains, 15 acres renovated hay land, 2,000 feet of grass waterway and 32 acres protected woodland. They have planted two acres of trees, use corrective and maintenance fertilizer program. They are milking 43 holsteins and test with DHIA.

CENTER — Mr and Mrs Edward Rohm have been soil conservation district operators since 1958, and operate a 140-acre farm. They have installed 12,000 feet of tile strip cropping, 12-acres of woodland and recently added 40 acres to the farm. They have 32 milking cows.

CICERO — Mr and Mrs Ray Wagner operate a 126-acre farm with 36 milk cows which average 413 pounds of butterfat by DHIA testing. They raise 12 and market brood sows and feeder pigs and have established tile and surface drainage.

Bought More Land
DALE — Mr and Mrs Elroy Winters started with a 40-acre farm, sold it and purchased a 136-acre tract and have since added another 40. The farm plan was completed this year. It has a 36-acre wildlife area, uses a six-year rotation plan with 115 crop acres. The winters milk 32 cows.

HORTONIA — Mr and Mrs Ed Fulcher have 800 acres, only 65 of which is for crops. In 1921 he started to purchase lowland along the Wolf River with the intention of developing a wildlife area. He signed a district agreement in 1964 established 21,000 feet of dikes and four miles of level ditching, has spent $3,000 on streambank stabilization and is developing a park. He has established a series of stocked trout ponds and raise feeder pigs.

KAUKAUNA — Mr and Mrs Robert Van de Loo have been cooperators since 1956 on their 144-acre farm. They have installed surface drainage, a structure and terracing, have 40 cows on DHIA averaging 500 pounds of butterfat.

LIBERTY — Mr and Mrs Dennis Dobberstein are purchasing their 198-acre farm from his father. They have established 48 acres of contour strips, 7,500 feet of terraces, 1,100 feet of diversions, 1,000 feet of grass waterways and 4,000 feet of surface drains, have a 40-cow herd with a DHIA average of 454 pounds of butterfat, 15 beef cattle and 160 laying hens.

MAINE — Mr and Mrs Don Peters have purchased a 160-acre farm on which they apply a fertilizer program to the silt soil. He is involved in two mutual drain groups. They have 4 acres of woodland, 34 dairy cattle, recently joined DHIA, and raise feeder pigs.

Surface Drainage
MAPLE CREEK — Mr and Mrs Howard Fredericks purchased their family farm and signed as district cooperators in 1962. They have since established surface drainage on their 118-acres, are carrying on a five-year crop rotation plan and milking 35 cows with 429-pound DHIA butterfat average.

ONEIDA — Mr and Mrs Lester Krahn have a large, diversified farming operation of 385 acres with 72 dairy cows having a 430 pound DHIA butterfat average. A third of the herd is registered, the balance grade Holsteins. All replacements are raised on the farm. They have 25 head of beef, 14 brood sows. Krahn, a cooperator since 1950, had installed 5,000 feet of deep ditching, 13,400 feet of tile, 9,100 feet of surface drains, 43 acres of contour strips and 30 acres of wildlife land. His operation is highly mechanized.

Tree Farm
OSBORN — Mr and Mrs Nolan Marien have a six-year rotation on their farm, have been district cooperators since 1953, were recognized last year for an outstanding tree farm, have established 1,000 feet of tiled grass waterway, 7,000 feet of tile and surface drainage, milk 33 Holsteins with an average of 425 pounds butterfat, have brood sows, laying hens, and a poultry enterprise of 20,000 pullets.

SEYMOUR — Mr and Mrs Marvin Mueller have been district cooperators since 1958 on their 229-acre farm, carry on a six-year rotation plan, have a 14-acre protected woodlot, 1,600 feet of deep ditches, 18,000 feet of tile and 1,800 feet surface drainage, keep farm records and milk 43 cows. Mueller dies drainage tiling in addition to farming.

VANDENBROEK — Mr and Mrs Joe VanGroll have 209 acres, are milking 47 Holsteins, have been cooperators since 1963. He worked with neighbors in developing a group drainage ditch which stretches 2½ miles and serves six farmers.

Boy Scouts Will Show First Aid Skill

North District Units Plan Session At Shiocton High

SHIOCTON—Plans have been completed for the north district, Valley Council Boy Scouts of America "Ready For Trouble" first aid meet set for 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the high school gymnasium, according to Harold Weiland, Clintonville, health and safety committee.

It is expected that Boy Scouts from at least 10 communities of the north district will attend the meet.

The event is being sponsored by the Shiocton Businessmen's League and 20 judges from that area have been selected to score the Scouts for A, B and C ratings. Heading the league for this occasion is Dale Nichols, president, Warren Andrews and Erwin Howish.

The Shiocton Cub Scout Pack will conduct the flag ceremonies.

Richard Herrema, district chairman, Shawano, said the event is open to the public.

Koreans Help In Viet Nam by Aiding People

Dave Units Back Up Men Pitted Against Viet Cong Guerrillas

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD
QUI NHON. South Viet Nam
 (AP) — The 22,000 Koreans in Viet Nam are helping to win the war by spending as much time helping the Vietnamese as they do shooting Viet Cong.

The bulk of the Korean outfit are tough army regulars and seasoned marines who are the largest foreign fighting force in Viet Nam after the Americans. Backing them up are the "dove units" — construction gangs building roads and schools and medical teams giving aid to civilians as well as soldiers.

Stationed at Qui Nhon, a central Viet Nam port on the South China Sea, is South Korea's famed Tiger Division which has chalked up a notable battle record since it landed here last fall.

Know Tactics
 "We have trained for the weather and the climate of Viet Nam and we have learned the Viet Cong tactics," said Maj. Gen. Myung Shin-cha, commander of Korean forces in Viet Nam.

Capt. Kwon Joon-taek, a member of the Tiger Division, said his men were especially trained in night fighting, at which the Communists have long excelled.

"The Viet Cong are good, but we are better," he said.

The Korean marines are stationed at Tuy Hoa, a sandy windswept wasteland in south central Viet Nam not far from Viet Cong territory.

"When we go into battle, we have the advantage of tough training and the highest morale," said Lt. Chung Jae-won of the Marines' Blue Dragon outfit.

Troops Are Friends
 At Di An, 10 miles northeast of Saigon, are the self-styled "doves", a 2,500-man construction outfit that has been repairing roads and bridges, setting up medical dispensaries and playgrounds and carrying out other projects to show the Vietnamese that allied troops are their friends.

On one occasion the Koreans rebuilt a Buddhist temple that had been ravaged by guerrillas.

The construction crews are housed in an old French outpost with watchtowers spaced along a high brick wall.

"The most important part of our civil aid program is the treatment of the people themselves," said Brig. Gen. Cho Moon-whan, who set up the Korean installation at Di An.

"Touching an infant, giving candy to a young boy, showing respect for the aged — these things mean more than a million dollars in a foreign aid program."

When the Vietnamese first ventured into the Koreans' medical clinics, many were distrustful and unfriendly.

Gained Friendship
 "Now, however, we have gained their friendship and trust," Cho said.

The third phase of the Korean mission in Viet Nam is at Vung Tau, about 50 miles south of Saigon, where a hospital has been set up in a rambling French colonial building.

"We feel that medicine is better than bullets to win over the Vietnamese people," said Col. Song Ik-hoon, commander of the 1st Korean Mobile Army Surgical Unit. "In medicine there is no boundary."

At the evacuation hospital 27 doctors and 33 nurses staff an establishment that includes an air-conditioned operating room, X-ray section, laboratory and buildings equipped with 400 beds.

Civilians as well as military personnel are treated. One of the patients is a Viet Cong brought in by a local policeman.

"The Viet Cong's leg was shattered and he had not been treated for weeks," said Song. "We must be kind to all who need our medical help."

"Of course, we are keeping an eye on him," he added with a grin.

Two More Newsprint Manufacturers Have Announced Price Hikes

NEW YORK (AP) — Two more newsprint producers have cut in half their previously announced $10-a-ton price increases.

They are Consolidated Paper

Corp., Ltd., Montreal, and Kruger Pulp and Paper, Ltd. Their revisions widened the scope of a general $5-a-ton price boost set by most of the newsprint producers.

Price Brothers & Co., Ltd., joined the price movement by boosting its prices $5 a ton. It had not previously announced a price increase.

AP Reporter Milton Kelley Dies at 58

WASHINGTON (AP)—G. Milton Kelly, an Associated Press reporter for 35 years in Michigan, India, New York and Washington, died Tuesday at the age of 58.

His death in George Washington University Hospital was caused by a rare type of anemia, from which he had long suffered.

A native of Hancock, Mich., Kelly first served The AP in Michigan, later in the New Delhi, India, and New York offices. In India he covered the assassination of Gandhi in 1948.

Assigned to the Washington staff in 1949, he soon specialized in the coverage of Senate investigations conducted by the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis.

Survivors include a sister, Saturday.

County Board Chairman Grobschmidt Testifies as Adverse Baseball Witness

By HARRY CHANDLER
Associated Press Writer
MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Milwaukee's fire-eating county board chairman has breathed new life into the trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball.

The proceedings, slow to a walk by the laborious reading of previously published depositions, came alive Tuesday when outspoken Eugene H. Grobschmidt was called to the stand by the defense and declared an adverse witness.

Grobschmidt, most voluble of local politicians in the hullabaloo over the Braves' planned transfer to Atlanta after 13 years in Milwaukee, admitted that he had called Board Chairman William C. Bartholomay and President John McHale of the Braves and National League President Warren Giles liars.

But he denied that he had continuously advocated harassment of the club.

Denied Apology
He acknowledged that he had publicly asked whether "somebody was trying to make the Braves look bad." He admitted saying it in 1964 and again in 1965. And he denied emphatically that he had apologized for the remark.

Grobschmidt heads the operations of the Milwaukee County Stadium where the Braves played. The Braves and other NL owners have cited his public utterances to back up their contention that the "unhealthy" political climate in Milwaukee was a factor that led the club to agree to transfer in 1964 for permission to lease the franchise.

Represents Braves
Wisconsin, in the suit being tried in circuit court, accuses the owners of conspiring to use baseball's "monopoly" to buy out Milwaukee as a major league city. The state says this is borne out by the Braves' transfer and the league's refusal to grant the Milwaukee Brewers, Inc., an expansion team.

Asked by McCann whether he had not also made the same reference to all of the Braves' club owners, Grobschmidt added: "I wouldn't say many times, but I recall branding them liars after some of our meetings with them."

"How many times?" asked McCann.

"As many times as they said they would be here as long as we wanted them," Grobschmidt also admitted. He had also described Giles as "our No. 1 liar." He said he made the statement after reading an article quoting the National League president as saying that threats of reprisal by local persons influenced club owners in the vote to sanction the Braves' move.

Menasha High School senior Don Steffin, a 6-2 forward and 3-year regular on the Bluejay varsity, captured the mythical Fox Cities' individual scoring championship with a point average of 20.9 points.

Mike Gage, a 6-2 Menasha St. Mary junior, placed second with an even 20-point average, while Fox Valley Lutheran senior Mark Dahlke and junior Dave Tiedt were deadlocked for third place with marks of 18.6 per cent.

On a total point basis, Neenah's Gary Losse, who played 25 games, headed the pack with 446 for the season. Gage was second with 421, while Steffin ranked third with 398. Dahlke and Tiedt tied with 390 points.

Hits 140 in Tourney
Losse, who tallied 140 points in Neenah's seven tourney games, headed the final average to 17.8 for fifth place. Kimberly's John Reider placed sixth with a 17.2 mark, while Kaukauna's Pat Kavanagh, Xavier's Mike Heideman and Gene Jack and Kimberly's Gary Van Cuyk rounded out the top 10.

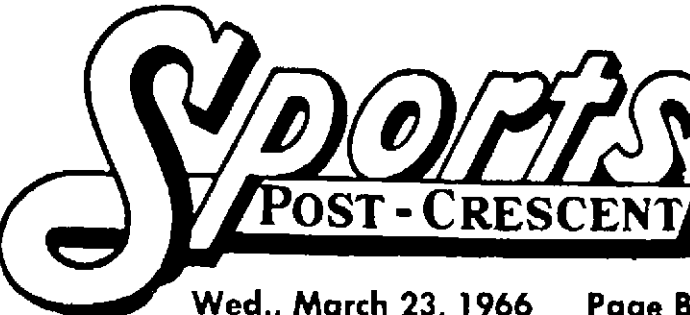

Of the top 10 pointmakers, five are juniors. These include Gage, Tiedt, Losse, Kavanagh and Jack. Six more juniors — Mike Heroux, Quinn Vandenhoevel, Pat Garvey, Ken Fries, Lloyd Hackel and Larry Hinder — finished from 11th to 20th, offering promise of a bright future in the 1966-67 campaign. The juniors outnumbered the seniors in the top 20.

More promising is the fact that two sophomores — St. John's Ed (Oscar) Schuler and Neenah's Dan Jankowski — were found among the top 28 scorers in the Fox Cities' junior, also was among the top 28 giving the underclassmen an even (14-14) break with seniors.

Dahlke Never Below 10
Dahlke was the only cager to score 10 or more points in all games. The FVL senior ranged from a low of 11 to a high of 32, the latter against Dr. Martin Luther.

Those that missed double figures once included Losse, six against Menasha; Gage, eight against Oshkosh Lourdes and Reider, five against Milwaukee North.

Steffin missed the 10-point plateau twice with nine against Shawano and eight against Monona Grove on consecutive days.

Tigers' McLain Nearly Goes Route as Mates Swamp Bouton, Yanks

Osteen Impressive In 6-Inning Stint, But LA Bows in 12th

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain was just one out away. Jim Bouton still has a long way to go.

McLain, a hard-throwing Detroit right-hander, worked 8 2/3 innings — longest stint by a pitcher this spring — as the Tigers mauled the New York Yankees 7-4 Tuesday for their sixth straight exhibition victory.

Bouton, a troubled Yankee right-hander, worked three innings and took his third straight pounding. He yielded all seven Detroit runs, including a grand slam homer by Willie Horton and bases-empty blasts by Don Demeter and Al Kaline.

McLain, a week short of his 26th birthday, is coming off a 16-6 season and his future is rosy. Bouton, 27, is fighting for a job after last year's 4-15 collapse — and running out of tomorrow. Tuesday's drubbing rocketed his earned run average for the spring to 11.70.

Bobby Wine, Philadelphia's light-hitting shortstop, collected his first hit of the spring, a 12th inning homer that gave the Phillies a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

California crushed Cleveland 11-0; Atlanta edged Kansas City 4-3; Houston topped Pittsburgh 5-3; St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 6-4; Washington clobbered Boston 8-7; Baltimore beat the New York Mets 5-3; the Chicago White Sox downed Minnesota 4-1 in 10 innings and the Chicago Cubs trimmed San Francisco 4-2.

McLain gave up a lead-off homer to Roy White in the first inning and then stopped the

Osteen Bouton

Yankess until the ninth. Two singles and two walks forced a run across and McLain gave way to Dave Wickersham, who walked another two runs in before getting Roger Maris on a bases-loaded fly for the last out.

Horton laded on Bouton in the first inning and Demeter followed with his solo shot. Kaline connected in the third, the

Arnie Herber Elected to NFL Hall of Fame

Late Walt Kiesling, Former Packer, and Coach Named

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Arnie Herber, who teamed with Don Hutson to give the Green Bay Packers one of the greatest passing combinations in National Football League history, has been elected to the NFL's Hall of Fame.

Herber, a Green Bay native, will be inducted along with seven others, including the late Walt Kiesling, a former Packer tackling and assistant coach. The ceremonies are scheduled for Aug. 27.

Herber, who starred at Green Bay West High School, joined the Packers in 1931 after playing briefly at the University of Wisconsin and Regis College in Denver, Colo.

After 11 seasons with the Packers, Herber retired but joined the New York Giants in 1944 and led them to the Eastern Division title.

The Giants lost the championship that season to the Packers, 14-7.

Herber is now a Green Bay businessman.

Kiesling, who died in 1962, played for the Chicago Bears, Chicago Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Steelers as well as the Packers. He was with Green Bay in 1935-36 and served on the Packer coaching staff from 1945-48. He also served as a coach with the Steelers.

Others chosen for the honor Tuesday were Bill Dudley, Steve Gyon, George McCaffrey, Joe Owen (Bulldog) Turner.

Horton and Ray are also dead. Hutson has already been inducted in the Hall of Fame.

Marichal Signs For $70,000

Hurler Shaw Only Remaining Holdout On Giant Roster

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Juan Marichal's acceptance of an estimated $70,000 to pitch for the San Francisco Giants this year leaves his fellow hurler Bob Shaw the club's only holdout today.

The 27-year-old right-hander from the Dominican Republic followed Cincinnati's Jim Maloney by just one day in agreeing to terms when he accepted an offer via telephone from Giants' vice-president Chub Feeney on Tuesday.

Still holding out, however, were the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers' ace, Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale.

Shaw, who posted a 16-9 record last year, has asked $50,000. The Giants' offer is believed about $43,000.

Marichal, the only major league hurler to win 20 or more games each of the past three years, accepted an offer apparently midway between the $80,000 he asked and the $60,000 he received last year when he posted a 22-13 record with 2.13 earned-run-average.

The hurler said he would arrive at the Giants' spring training camp in Phoenix on Friday. He has reported himself in good shape but six pounds overweight.

Hawks Again Will Have Solid Nucleus of Cagers Returning

Xavier Has 110-9 Record as 4-Year School Under Clark

XAVIER HAS 5h
BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

One of the secrets of the coaching success of Xavier High School's Gene (Torchy) Clark is that he is seldom — if ever — caught without a solid nucleus of returnees.

The trend is due to continue next season when two of Xavier's season-long basketball regulars (Gene Jack and Tom Heinritz) will be back, as will Dan Hardy, who started the last three games of the campaign over veteran Paul Rechner's injured.

Five of the Hawks' top nine scorers (Pat Fitzgerald and Terry Graff, in addition to the three mentioned) will be back for the 1966-67 season. Four other players with some varsity experience should also be available. They include Tony Kamasky, Steve Rechner, Tom Thompson (who was a freshman this season) and Jeff Bartosic.

Fifth FVCC Title

championship — and the state tournament berth that goes with it. But, the Hawks did win a fifth straight undisputed Fox Valley Catholic Conference title — despite having been picked for no better than third at the season's outset.

Under Clark's guidance, Xavier has won 92.4 per cent of all its basketball games since becoming a 4-year school. This season's 18-3 mark the "worst" of the spectacular 5-season span — brought the Hawks' aggregate cage record as a 4-year institution to 110 wins and only nine losses.

Xavier's losses in 1966-6 were to a towering Chicago St. Patrick team, 68-54, in a pre-conference game; to Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs, 60-57, in FVCC play; and to Oshkosh Lourdes, 56-55, in the regional tourney finals. Imposing streaks that ended during the season: a 60 regular-season win streak; a 40 straight; a conference victory string; and a home-court skunk at 32 in a row.

In its seven seasons of basketball (as a 2-, 3- and 4-year school), Xavier has now won 140 times, while losing but 21 games.

Heideman and Paul Rechner concluded their Hawk careers, with totals of 607 and 493 points.

Cloninger Hit By Line Drive, Injures Knee

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.
(AP) — Tony Cloninger, top pitcher on the Atlanta Braves' staff, is the latest victim of a sore knee.

Reserve catcher Gene Oliver was hurt last week in a home-plate collision and will be out for some time yet with his injury. Catcher Joe Torre was hospitalized for a few days with a sore knee, and now Cloninger is on the list.

The big right-hander was hurt in the second inning Tuesday against the Kansas City Athletics, who were beaten 4-3 by the Braves.

Kansas City pitcher Paul Lindblad hit a liner which struck Cloninger on the knee.

Team officials said the injury did not appear to be serious, but Cloninger was examined by physicians.

Clay Gets License for Bout

TORONTO (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay rounds by Patterson — that is now has a license here for a 15-round bout against Canadian kid brother and sparring partner George Chuvalo — on Oct. 9, 1964.

March 29 that won't be recognized in Ontario as a title fight, even if he scores the big upset. But if the 28-year-old Canadian strong-boy ever gets lucky, he will be recognized as the world champion and will win his first defeat, you the Ontario Boxing Commission can bet that Chuvalo will be the victor.

That's why Merv McKenzie, globe where the World Boxing Association head of the commission and a former president of the WBA, won't permit title billing to the fight in the Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens.

It hasn't deterred the promoter. They are calling it The Fight of the Century or the Fight of Champions.

With the fight only six days away, Chuvalo scaled 212 pounds, only three over what he plans to weigh for the fight, according to trainer Ted Whortor. Clay, who hit the beam at 225 when he arrived here last Friday, reportedly is getting close to the 215 he wants to carry for the fight.

Clay secured his Ontario license and passed his physical 7-1 against Liston then some examination Tuesday. He experts say Chuvalo should be signed the contract for the fight at least 10-1 considering that his after a closed-door session with last effort was a losing one to McKenzie.

Mckenzie said that Ontario officials — a referee and two judges — will be employed for the fight.

Dearborn '5' Meets Bartlesville in AAU Title Game Tonight

Tregoning Clinches Victory for Michigan Quint in Semi-Final Tilt

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — left, Dearborn's Larry Tregoning, Mich., and Bartlesville's Larry Tregoning, Mich., won hard-earned on the second of his free throw attempts in the final minutes of the AAU basketball title game tonight. The Dearborn team, coached by Tregoning, defeated Bartlesville, 45-42, in a thrilling game that was decided in the final minutes.

At halftime the score was Bartlesville 33, Denver 27, following a four-minute stretch in which the Oklahoma team went stone cold. Coming back after intermission, Clark batted in three baskets and Gardner made two followed by a pair of free throws to give Denver a 40-39 edge with 16:37 remaining.

That was the final advantage for Denver as Morehead, Ky., star Harold Sergeant scored two baskets in succession, on a long jumper and a layup, to send Bartlesville ahead 45-42.

Wilke Enters 3 More Cars For '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Robert C. Wilke, Milwaukee businessman, today added three more rear-engine, Ford-powered autos to his stable for the Golden Anniversary Indianapolis 500 May 30.

Earlier, Wilke entered one Ford and named Don Branson, Champaign, Ill., driver. Johnny Rutherford, Fort Worth, Tex., was named to drive one of the three new entries. No driver was listed for the other two.

Rutherford, U.S. Auto Club national sprint car champion last year, has started the last three Indianapolis races. Branson will be looking for an eighth straight start in the 500.

Thirty cars, all of rear-engine design, have been entered so far, with 40 more expected before the April 15 deadline. The list includes 19 cars with Ford racing engines, five supercharged Offenhausers, two modified stock block Chevrolet engines and three Lotus cars with the engine not specified.

Milwaukee Team Retains Lead in ABC Tournament

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — The leaders held firm Tuesday in all divisions of the 63rd American Bowling Congress Tournament.

Tops Markets of Tonawanda, N.Y., made the only challenge of the day when the team rolled a 2,904 series to take second place in the regular-team division.

Heileman Old Style of Milwaukee continues to dominate the division with 2,916.

Albert Schupbach of Walled Lake, Mich., took eighth place in regular all-events with a nine-game total of 1,822.

Schupbach, 45, a toolmaker, shot 620 in the team event, 630 in doubles and 572 in singles, but fell far short of the leader, Jerry Held of Monroe, Mich., who leads the division with 1,911.

Falcon Ticket Buyers Unhappy About Seats

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons sold 45,000 season tickets to next fall's games — and on the first day — and most of the buyers apparently are unhappy with the location of their stadium seats.

The switchboard at the Falcons' office has been jammed the past two days, since season ticket buyers were notified of their seat location.

Other unhappy fans have crowded into the Falcons' office to make a personal plea for different seats.

The telephone lines have been so busy that a friend of Hal Herndon, assistant coach for the Atlanta Falcons, finally sent a telegram Tuesday after trying vainly for two days to reach him.

Most of the complaints have come from fans who wanted to be near the 50-yard line and wound up behind the goal lines, according to Ray Gilliland, ticket manager for the Falcons.

Gilliland said the ticket holders are not familiar with the seating of a circular park such as Atlanta Stadium and cannot understand where all the sideline seats went.

"There just aren't 45,000 side-line seats," Gilliland said. "We sell on a single game basis."

Bavasi Believes That Sandy, Drysdale Won't Be Playing for Dodgers

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers said Wednesday he has concluded that the world champions will play this year without star pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale.

"Unless I'm naive and have been taken in, I have to believe they won't sign," E. J. (Buzz) Bavasi said after learning that Koufax and Drysdale had gone over his head by calling Dodger owner Walter O'Malley to discuss their contract problems.

Best of Luck
"If the boys prefer doing business with O'Malley, it's perfectly agreeable with me," said the general manager. "It's O'Malley's money. But I'm disappointed that Don didn't call me first."

nights. Van Cuyk missed against Menasha (9) and Manitowoc (4), while Heideman tallied five points against Fond du Lac Springs and seven against De Pere Pennings.

Tiedt hit just seven and nine points in two of FVL's first three games, but the 6-1½ junior never slipped below double figures in the last 18 engagements.

Missed Three Times
Three players — Kavanaugh, Kimberly's Bob Van Gompel and Menasha's Tom Vanderhyden — missed double figures three times.

The best 1-game performance was registered by Mike Heroux, with 40 points against Green Bay Promontre, while Steffin was next in line with 37 against Kaukauna. Steffin also tallied 33 against Shawano.

Reider tallied 36 points against Neenah, while Gage reached the 30-point level on three occasions — pennings (34), Weyauwega (32) and Springs (30).

The only other members of the 30-point club were Tiedt, with 34 against Northwestern and Kavanaugh, with 30 against Menasha.

A total of 56 players from the nine Fox Cities schools accumulated more than 50 points during the recently completed campaign. The list follows:

Big 10 to Draw Cage Schedule For 1967-68

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten basketball coaches meet today to draft 1967-1968 conference schedules. League slates for 1966-1967 were drawn previously.

A conference spokesman said coaches were concerned with a freeze-up of league play during January because of variations of exams at tri-meter, quarter and regular semester schools.

A solution may be more scheduling of conference games in December, although the Big Ten traditionally begins league competition after Jan. 1.

Burke Resigns Post at Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Boston University announced the resignation Tuesday of basketball Coach John Burke who directed the Terriers for seven years.

Dr. Robert R. Peck, director of physical education and athletics, said Burke resigned to accept a post as golf professional at Needham Country Club.

Burke, a graduate of Springfield, coached at Wesleyan, Grosse Point, Mich., and MIT before moving to BU in 1959. His Terrier teams posted a combined record of 68-84.

Ed Gauerke Hits 629 in Couples Loop

Ed Gauerke smacked a 240 game and 629 series to pace the Rainbow Couples League at the 41 Bowl last weekend.

Top scores for the women included games of 199 and 197 by Betty Eggenberger and a 238 game and 572 series by Carl Sengstock.

Paul Albers had a 226 game and 620 series to lead the way in the Fish Couples League at Jerry's Lanes, Kimberly.

Ed Bloch had a 577 series and "like" Hammen topped the women with a 191 game.

Joe Murphy had a 554 series for the Tree Couples League Sunday night.

Bullets Place Gus Johnson on Playoff Roster

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets reactivated Gus Johnson Tuesday night as they designated their roster for the upcoming National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Bullets are gambling the torn ligaments in Johnson's right ankle will heal sufficiently so that he will be able to play sometime during the playoffs.

Johnson was injured March 6 game in Los Angeles. The cast was removed from his leg Tuesday.

X-rays disclosed a small bone chip, but a physician said the ligaments appear to be healing.

A team spokesman said Johnson is still 10 to 14 days away from possible action, and will undergo intensive daily therapy.

The Bullets dropped Wayne Hightower from the roster to job. Mentally it's tougher than making room for Johnson, in addition, Kevin Loughery is sulking and run around, but you don't ferer from a spained right ankle get up for a game like you used to.

If Loughery is unable to play when Baltimore entertains the St. Louis Hawks Thursday night, the Bullets will have only nine able bodied players.

Ends 10-Year Stint

Knicks' Gola Retires From Pro Cage Wars, Embarks on Political Career

By ED SCHUYLER JR., Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The old standards were played on the season, and they won the NBA court three other old standbys also played — for the last time in Madison Square Garden.

But for Player-coach Richie Guerin and Cliff Hagan of the St. Louis Hawks there still are the National Basketball Association playoffs before they finish their careers.

For Tom Gola of the New York Knickerbockers it was the end — the end of a brilliant individual chapter in basketball, one which saw the Philadelphia native make All America three times in LaSalle, play on the NBA champion and be named to five NBA All-Star teams.

Gola may be walking away from basketball but not from competition — he is seeking the election as a Pennsylvania state representative on the Republican ticket.

"Not Bad Now"

"It's not bad now," the 10-year pro veteran said Tuesday night when asked how he felt, knowing that he had played his last game. The Knicks, last in the East, beat the Hawks 126-125 in the final regular season NBA game with rookie Dick Van Arman in Los Angeles. The cast was removed from his leg Tuesday.

X-rays disclosed a small bone chip, but a physician said the ligaments appear to be healing. "When I first had to make up my mind to quit, I felt sad about it."

"I think the early years are the most exciting of a man's career," Gola continued. "As the years go on it becomes a job. Mentally it's tougher than physically. You can go out there and run around, but you don't get up for a game like you used to."

If the later years weren't too much fun for Gola, the early ones must have been a ball. After guiding LaSalle to the NCAA championship as a junior in 1954, he joined the old Philadelphia Warriors for the 1955-56 season, and they won the NBA title — no one but the Boston Celtics has won one since.

Picked in 1960
Known more as a playmaker and a defensive player Gola was picked for an All-Star game for the first time in 1960 and followed that up by being chosen in the next four years.

But that is past, and now it will be business — Gola has an insurance agency in Philadelphia — and politics. "Next week we're going to sit down and plan the campaign," said Gola who is unopposed in the primary in May. "But they'll probably have me go around now while the voting atmosphere is in the air."

During the interview, a reporter told Gola he could finish dressing while being questioned. Boh Darwin and Delano Hill and "No, that's all right. I'm not going anywhere" was the reply. Tom Gola is going some-where too, and it was tough to leave.

Burrows, Hill Go to Rochester

MIAMI (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles reduced their spring training squad to 40 players Tuesday by sending three right-handed pitchers — Boh Darwin and Delano Hill and Tom Gola — to the International League.

Leo Wastes No Time Lippy Leo Durocher, first year manager of the Chicago Cubs, warms up his vocal cords during a beef with plate umpire Chris Pelekoudas at Long Beach, Calif. Tuesday. Pelekoudas seems to be holding his own with the talkative Cubs' pilot. Durocher was disputing a putout that cost the Cubs a run. The ruling stood and the run made no difference as Chicago beat San Francisco 4-2. (AP Wirephoto)

'Great Honor,' Bulldog Turner Says of Hall of Fame Award

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Clyde (Bulldog) Turner, an owner and trainer in New Mexico horse race circles, described his selection to the National Professional Football Hall of Fame as one of his greatest honors.

Turner played center for the Chicago Bears from 1940-42. He now owns a ranch at Tularosa, N.M., where he raises and trains horses.

It is a great honor, Turner said Tuesday night of his selection, knowing some of the boys that are in there. (The Hall of Fame already, it's just a tremendous honor to be even mentioned along with them.

Previously, he had been named to the Football Foundation Hall of Fame in New York, the Texas Athletic Hall of Fame and the Helms Hall of Fame for Professional Football.

Turner said that the National Professional Football Hall of Fame had been about the only other honor for which he was eligible and that since most of not money, said Boyer, who his reputation and career was in was obtained from St. Louis in a professional football, the honor winter trade. But the more I was especially meaningful make the more I love it.

He played college football at Boyer, who will receive about Hardin Simmons University, $60,000 in salary from his new Abilene, Tex., and coached football this year, was hitless in his ball there one spring after leaving only trip Tuesday when the Bears. He still maintains, Mets dropped a 5-3 decision to a home at Gatesville, Tex., al Baltimore, though much of his time is spent the Bears George McAfee also was named to the same honor Tuesday.

He's quite a guy, Turner said of McAfee, a halfback. I guess he was the best broken field runner I ever saw. A great all-around football player, a great defensive man.

Turner was an assistant coach with the Bears from 1952-57 and there ends he plans to go to Rutgers coached the New York Titans, doing Downs for the summer American Football League team in 1962. The Titans have since One of Turner's teammates on became the Jets.

Tigers' McLain Stops Yankees; Dodgers Lose

sixth homer given up by Bouton in 10 innings

Claude Osteen, ace of the Dodgers' staff in the absence of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, blanked Philadelphia for six innings while Al Ferrara's two-run homer sent the world champions in front 2-0.

The Phils tied it in the seventh when Rich Allen and Jackie Brandt homered off Howie Reed. Wine's homer in the 12th saddled the Dodgers with their eighth loss in 10 starts.

Rookie outfielder Jackie Warner led the California assault with a two-run homer and run scoring single. Warner also took a homer away from Leon Wagner with a spectacular catch, injuring his left wrist on the play.

Pinch-hitter Frank Bolling singled home two runs in the eighth inning, lifting the Braves past Kansas City. Tony Cloninger, the Braves' starter, was struck by a line drive and taken out after two innings.

Houston slipped by Pittsburgh on pitcher Frank Carpin's two run single in the eighth while St. Louis clipped Cincinnati's Sam Rice for four runs in the first inning — two on Pat Corrales' double — and held off the Reds.

Washington Wins
Two home runs by Don Lock and one apiece by Bob Chance and Ken McMullen enabled Washington to overtake Boston and snap a nine-game losing streak. Frank Robinson and Woody Held each clubbed two-run homers in the Orioles' victory over the Mets.

The White Sox won their fifth in a row on Don Buford's run scoring single in the 10th while John Boccabella's two-run homer made the difference in the Cubs-Giants game.

The Giants however were cheered by the hitting of Orlando Cepeda — who collected a double and two singles in three trips — and the signing of 22 game winner Juan Marichal. Marichal ended a long holdout by accepting a reported $70,000 contract.

High School Hazing Can Be Dangerous

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: A situation in the athletic department of our local high school has me quite upset.

Six or eight older athletes will get a boy and hold him down while each whacks the captive on the belly with the palm of the hand. Sometimes as many as 15 boys have given a "pink belly" to a victim. On occasion the participants will slap a handful of cinders onto the stomach. How injurious might this be?—B.S.

Boxers, football players and others in top trim can withstand quite a blow on their abdominal muscles. What happens when the victim isn't in training?

Dr. Molner

Perhaps all he gets is a "pink belly," but he could be seriously injured. Most dangerous possibilities are damage to the liver, bladder or kidneys. The consequences could be life-long.

This sadistic business involving the cinders can abrade the skin and lead to infection.

I hope somebody puts an end to this risky hazing before some boy is injured internally. Better yet, I hope the older school athletes recognize the risk and stop it themselves.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a noise in my ear like a bee buzzing. I have heard of other people having noises that sound like a bell ringing. What does it mean?—G.P.C.

Ear noises take countless forms. Patients describe them in all sorts of ways. I like bacon frying like something ticking like bells like buzzes like boiler factories like running water. The type of noise doesn't seem to have much significance although there are many causes. That's why I chose the title, "Ear Noises: Their Causes and Cures," for a booklet which you can obtain by sending me in care of The Post-Crescent stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover printing and handling. The noises usually are a nuisance rather than signifying anything acutely harmful. Still when one or another of the simpler remedies proves effective, it's a relief.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has Heberden's nodes on his fingers. What does this mean? Cause? Treatment?—Mrs. J.C.

These are little bumps at the ends of small bones of the fingers, technically a form of hypertrophic arthritis. In plain language, the ends of the bones have become somewhat thickened.

This is more frequent in women than in men. Obviously there may be some discomfort and stiffness. Since the bone itself is thickened there is no way to change it nor to halt or prevent it. However, heat will ease stiffness.

Like other forms of arthritis its cause is not known nor do we know why some people have the trouble and others don't. It is possible to have even extensive arthritic changes in other areas such as knees or spine yet not have Heberden's nodes on the fingers. And vice versa.

Dear Dr. Molner: A scab has kept forming for years in my right nostril building up until it interferes with breathing. It has to be removed causing some bleeding and pain. Then another

Soviet Cosmonauts Were Lost in Snow Forest a Year Ago

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Pavel Beliaev were lost in a snow forest after their Voskhod II flight that produced man's first walk in space a year ago.

The newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda let out that secret Saturday in an article on the forms. What could cause this?

—M.G.H.

The foremost possibility is a chronic ulcer, or bleeding point close to the surface of the membrane of the nose. I suggest that you consult a nose-throat specialist (or your own doctor), for if that is the reason the area can be cauterized to prevent bleeding and the scabs.

(Copyright 1966)

anniversary of the space walk. It said the space ship came down in the forest and searchers did not find it for 24 hours. When a ground party reached the cosmonauts they had been "tortured all night" by the freezing weather and medical instruments still attached to their bodies. The article said:

Sporting Goods Store Looted for 24th Time in 23-Year Period

COVENTRY, R.I. (AP)—William B. Longridge has made his annual report to police. Bur glars have raided his sporting goods shop for the 24th time in 23 years.

Police said the thieves used a ladder to gain entrance to the second story. The intruders then ripped up floor boards to get to the first floor where they took nine guns valued at $600.

Because it was short while the cutter was in port recently, Allison will teach a diving improvement course to the skipper and his crew or 100 during the ship's current two-month cruise.

Lebanon Expels U. S. Professor Because He Insulted Mohammed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Charging that he insulted the prophet Mohammed, Lebanon expelled Saturday a professor at the American University in Beirut for including in a course the 600-year-old writings of St. Thomas Aquinas on Islam. He is Prof. John Spagnolo, a Spaniard.

In the writings Aquinas speaks of carnal pleasures promised by Mohammed and the use of arms in Islam. The disputed passages have been on sale in Lebanese bookstores for years.

LBJ Minimizes Labor's Break With Democrats

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is not the man to magnify in public any differences with individuals or groups so long as he thinks there may be a chance to persuade them to return to camp.

This does much to explain Johnson's easy manner Tuesday when a girl reporter at an impromptu news conference asked about the recent statement of George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

Meany had said in the future the huge labor organization would not be allied with either Democrats or Republicans.

Johnson told the questioner she was apparently more distressed about this than he was.

Union Independent
But there was something Johnson could hardly forget even as he tried to make the best of an unhappy situation by saying that in his view the AFL-CIO has always been independent and should be.

The labor organization backed

him in the 1964 presidential race and the AFL-CIO backed Democratic presidential candidates in election after election for years.

The AFL-CIO support is a very big and important help to the Democrats.

But now it is irritated with the Democrats and Meany is disenchanted with them, as he explained in a very emphatic and biting way. It was enough to give Democrats some chills about this year's congressional elections.

Meany blasted the Democrats for failing to deliver on promises and laid down political independence as a goal for the AFL-CIO although it has backed the Democratic party for more than a generation.

Can't Deliver

In recent years, besides 1964, the AFL-CIO endorsed the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, 1956 and 1960.

But Meany suggested labor return to the policy of one of its early leaders Samuel Gompers supporting individual candidates on their voting records regardless of party, rather than political parties.

At the moment labor has two big gripes.

1 That the Johnson administration didn't work hard enough to break the Senate filibuster which killed labor's attempt to repeal section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This section lets states outlaw the union shop.

But Meany noted that the one who led the filibuster to keep section 14B in the law was the Republicans' Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Meany called him the "new darling of the conservatives."

2 The attempt by the Johnson administration to limit wage increases to 3.2 per cent, which was the figure set down as a guideline by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

There has been some talk within labor's ranks of setting up a labor party in this country but Meany wants no part of that, saying a third party is not the solution.

If the Johnson administration figured it had the AFL-CIO in its pocket the Meany statement may disillusion it a bit and — this may have been Meany's purpose — scare it into paying more attention to labor's demands.

What the administration does from now on to satisfy labor will be more revealing than the President's easy, casual comment Tuesday.

Fish Fillets en Papillote

Poached Halibut

Fish 'n' Seafood Glamor

Curried Shrimp Salad

POST-CRESCENT FOOD EDITOR
by Lillian Mackesy

Dramatic is the word for these fish and seafood dishes . . . with recipes borrowed from the French but adapted to American seasonings and other go-togethers. Actually it's not one bit more difficult to prepare any of these dishes in gourmet fashion than it is to make them any old way or prepare the fish by the old fry, bake and boil method.

Put lobster in a casserole dish, enhance it with fresh mushrooms, a touch of Bermuda onion and the unusual combination of bitters and brandy. The result is splendid . . . the flavors are mellowed to a delicious peak of taste. Here's a dish suitable for the most discriminating guests.

Or borrow from the fine chefs of New Orleans with their rich background of French cooking. Cooking fish in paper . . . en papillote . . . is an old French custom. In this method the fish is encased in parchment paper and baked so that the good fish flavor is trapped inside the package. Anyone who has eaten in the famous French restaurants in New Orleans probably has discovered Pompano en Papillote, a famous dish featured by all restaurants there. The American adaptation of this classic French technique calls for foil rather than the hard to find parchment paper.

Another French method of fish preparation is the poach-

ing method . . . in milk . . . water . . . wine . . . sauce. Any one of these greatly enhances the delicate natural flavors of the low fat, white meat fish. Halibut steaks especially are well suited to poaching because their fine texture is firm, making the steaks easy to handle without breaking the fish. The recipe today suggests poaching halibut steaks in a seasoned stock and serving them in a dill sauce.

Shrimp salad flavored with curry and served with cherry tomatoes and black olives rounds out today's glamor group of recipes that will surely add prestige to any cook's repertoire.

Here they are . . . ready for the file and especially for the next big Lenten fast day ahead, Good Friday.

FISH FILLETS EN PAPILLOTE

- 4 fish fillets (cod, haddock, sole, or other white-meated fish)
- 1/4 cup softened butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds
- 8 cooked shrimp, halved lengthwise

Place each fish fillet in a piece of foil large enough to turn to Page 2, Col. 3.

Upper Income Shoppers Have Specific Buying Habits, Market Study Shows

Upper income families are different, very different from other types of shoppers and it takes a special kind of know-how to sell them and keep them sold.

That is a major conclusion drawn from a study called Consumer Dynamics in the Supermarket. The latest find-shopping habits and attitudes. The million-dollar study is being conducted by Progressive Grocer Magazine in co-operation with a nation-wide grocery retailer and a research firm.

The study deals mainly with supermarket behavior, showing that this is growing, numerous and has become an entity in mass buying power. The major upper income group consists of professionals, white collar executives and business proprietors who generally live in the better suburbs. They are active socially, own two or more cars, are better educated (98 per cent have a high school diploma—56 per cent attended college). They are very conscious of their newly-won status.

Will Change Stores

Upper income families were found above average in buying power for many supermarket products. They spend the most per major shopping trip ($23.64 in 20 minutes), show a greater fondness for new products and for items which give stores higher profits.

They are difficult to please and highly mobile. Virtually 100 per cent of upper income wives use the car to shop. They will travel greater distances to find a store which pleases them. In the course of a year, 32 per cent will switch markets because of dissatisfaction with their current one. This is a much greater turnover than for other kinds of families.

Neatness and cleanliness comes first in their listing of qualities they look for in a store. Next comes quality of meat, selection of meat courtesy of personnel and quality of produce.

They use shopping lists more than other families (79 per cent use some form of list) and those that do use lists buy 43 per cent more than those without lists.

They prefer to do their big shopping on Thursday or Friday (66 per cent) rather than Saturday (25 per cent). They go to the meat counter first, dairy next, frozen foods, next, their produce and then baked goods. Only 6 per cent of upper income shoppers pass more than 75 product locations during a shopping trip. By comparison, 52 per cent of the young married group pass more than 75 product locations.

Like To Entertain

They are entertainment minded. Their cheese and cheese spread sales are 18 per cent more than average, frozen cakes, pies and pastries 44 per cent more, snacks and desserts, plus 22 per cent frozen cookies and rolls, plus 153 per cent. They like to give and enjoy cookouts and patio parties. Wiener buns sales were 70 per cent above average, sandwich buns plus 62 per cent, ice cream and sherberts, plus 21 per cent, wieners, plus 6 per cent, soft drinks, plus 18 per cent.

Frozen food purchases in stores serving upper income shoppers were 47 per cent above the average. Outstanding frozen food performances among this group were frozen fruits, 38 per cent above average, juices 144 per cent, vegetables 76 per cent, soups, 48 per cent, pot pies and dinners, 30 per cent, Chinese, Mexican and Italian foods, 171 per cent.

Quality, Gourmet Interest

They are gourmet and quality minded. They are the best customers for lamb, veal, smoked pork and beef and for the most esoteric varieties of produce. They know the difference between hamburger, ground chuck and round. They buy 27 per cent more butter, 39 per cent more cream, 145 per cent more lobster tails, 173 per cent more fresh cut green beans.

They are below average purchasers of non-food products in super markets. Sales of housewares were 39 per cent below average, apparel and accessories, 74 per cent below average, and toys and stationery, 36 per cent below average.

"The upper income family," Progressive Grocer says, "is more likely to be concerned with the consideration of design of quality and style, and of the product's relation to decor. These qualifications are filled better for them with products from specialty shops."

Exchange Promises

CLINTONVILLE — Miss Casandra Mae Fischer and Roland Lee Sipiorski exchanged wedding vows at 1:30 p.m. March 12 at St. Rose Catholic Church. The Rev. Thaddeus Koszarek officiated at the double ring rite.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fischer. Marion, the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Sipiorski, 11 E. 12th St.

Miss Karen Fischer, Green Bay, was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Norman Fischer, Miss Melanie Fischer and Mrs. Donald Marquardt.

Best man's duties were handled by the bridegroom's brother, Dennis Sipiorski. Norman Fischer, Gary Sipiorski and Donald Hoffman attended as groomsmen, while C. Donald Fischer and Jack Hoffman were ushers.

A reception was held at the Legion Hall.

The bride, a graduate of Patricia Stevens Modeling and Secretarial College, Milwaukee, is employed at Appleton Senior High School. Her husband is serving in the Army.

Vision Screening Clinic Set Up To Prevent 'Lazy Eye Blindness'

The Appleton Junior Woman's Club has organized a program to help prevent partial blindness in children who unknowingly suffer defective vision. The vision screening clinic for all group, working under the direction and supervision of the Wisconsin Society for the Prevention of Blindness, the Outagamie County Medical Society, Appleton children without charge on three separate dates: from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. April 30, May 7 and May 14. The tests will be administered by club members who have undergone training given by the Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Can Prevent

Mrs. James Zwack, chairman of the project, first brought the idea for the club project before the group in December. She told members that a certain kind of child is unable to fuse the vision problem, amblyopia, affects almost seven million Americans, and that it is almost 100 per cent preventable. The difficulty in preventing the disability is that a child may look and perform in a perfectly normal way, so that the parent has no suspicion of trouble. But by the age of seven or eight, when he receives his first real eye examination, the damage is irreparable. Amblyopia occurs when a child is unable to fuse the images seen by both eyes into a single image. One eye transmits an image that is blurred, or fuzzy, and because this makes him uncomfortable, the child suppresses the image from the weak eye and, in doing so, stops it from developing. The difficulty is often called 'lazy eye blindness', and once the development of the eye has stopped — by about age six — nothing can be done to restore the vision in that eye.

Early Diagnosis

Amblyopia can be treated if diagnosed in early childhood. If it is not found the child will never have normal depth perception, will have difficulty in school and will be limited in his job prospects. He will also be prone to accident and, should his good eye be damaged, may be left virtually blind.

Any Appleton child who fails the vision screening test will receive a recommendation for a follow-up professional examination. Testing teams will visit various nursery schools in the city to administer the test during the school day.

Symptoms Told

Failure of the test may also be brought about by other disorders which would be detected in a professional examination. Symptoms which may indicate some type of eye problem in a child are excessive rubbing of the eyes; stumbling over small objects; holding books close to the eyes; squinting or frowning; shutting or covering one eye; difficulty in reading or close work; blinking excessively or irritability when doing close work, or inability to participate in games requiring direct vision.

Members of the club will receive their training in an April 21 program at Trinity Lutheran Church Parish Hall. The first nursery school screening is scheduled morning and afternoon April 26 and 27 at the Y Pre-School nursery and April 28 and 29 at the Appleton Cooperative Nursery.

Serving on the advisory committee for the project are Dr. David Gallaher; Dr. Edward Zeiss; Dr. Donald Garelick; Dr. Lloyd Williams; Dr. William Keller Jr.; Dr. James Laird; Donald Day; Mrs. Charles Lansing, executive director of the Wisconsin Society for the Prevention of Blindness; Mrs. Harry Jolie of the Visiting Nurse Association; Miss Lucy Lang, public school nurse; Mrs. Jack Freemore, Outagamie County nurse, and a Junior Woman's Club coordinating committee composed of Mrs. Zwack, Mrs. Donald Garelick and Mrs. Philip Schlichting.

Speaker Available

Club members who head committees concerned with the vision screening are Mrs. Robert Sigman, record keeping; Mrs. Alan Stoner, publicity; Mrs. John Lundberg, babysitting; Mrs. Wayne Steinberg, various nursery schools in the calling; Mrs. James Reidel and Mrs. William Haack, letters and letter distribution, and Mrs. Richard Dratz, public relations. Groups interested in having the program explained in further detail may contact Mrs. Dratz to arrange for a speaker.

Salad Bar Lunch Set by Church Unit

KAUKAUNA The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church will sponsor a salad bar luncheon from 11 to 1 p.m. Thursday in Fellowship Hall. A variety of salads, dessert and homemade rolls will be served.

Tickets are being sold by members and will be available at the door. Mrs. Harold Lindell is food chairman, Mrs. Clarence This is dining room and ticket chairman; Mrs. Roger Rohlf has charge of decorations and posters, and Mrs. Earl Belong the Y Pre-School nursery and ger. publicity. Mrs. Donald Green is general chairman.

wrap around fish. Spread each with one tablespoon butter or margarine. Garnish each with four shrimp halves and a tablespoon of almonds. Seal foil. Bake 20 minutes in 350-degree oven. Serve in the foil, garnished with lemon. Recipe makes four servings.

PIQUANT POACHED HALIBUT

2 pounds halibut steaks, fresh or frozen
1 quart water
1/4 chopped onion
1 stalk celery, sliced
2 cloves garlic, bruised
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 slice lemon
Dilly Sauce

Pour water into large skillet or heavy cast iron pot. Add vegetables, seasonings and lemon. Bring to a boil and simmer for three minutes. Lower halibut steaks into the water, return to boil, then cover and simmer for five to eight minutes until fish is completely white and flaky. Add more water, if necessary, to barely cover fish. Remove fish from stock with slotted spatula and place in shallow refrigerator dish. Serve hot with Dilly Sauce.

DILLY SAUCE

1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup peeled, seeded, minced dill pickles
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon frozen chopped chives

Combine all ingredients. Serve with poached halibut. Recipe makes one and one-half cups sauce.

BRANDIED LOBSTER CASSEROLE

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 pound large mushrooms, sliced thin
1/2 cup grated Bermuda onion 4 tomatoes, peeled and cut in wedges

2 cups diced cooked lobster meat
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/4 teaspoon bitters
2 cups heavy cream
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/4 cup brandy
4 cups cooked rice

Melt butter. Add mushrooms and cook over moderate heat until browned, about five minutes. Add onion and tomatoes and stir over moderate heat five minutes more until sauce forms. Add lobster, salt, pepper and bitters. Stir and cook one minute. Stir in cream. When it bubbles, add parsley and brandy. Remove from heat.

Line a two-quart casserole with rice. Turn in lobster mixture. Bake at 350 degrees 20 minutes or until bubbly. Recipe makes eight servings.

CURRIED SHRIMP SALAD

2 packages (1 pound) frozen, peeled and deveined shrimp
2 teaspoons salt
Juice of half a lemon
1 bay leaf
3 whole peppercorns or dash of freshly-ground black pepper
1 cup mayonnaise
2 teaspoons curry powder
2 teaspoons soy sauce
3 tablespoons minced green onion
1/2 cup minced celery
Cherry tomatoes
Whole black olives

Cook shrimp in boiling water according to package directions, adding salt, lemon juice, bay leaf and peppercorns. Drain and cool; then chill. Mix together mayonnaise, curry powder and soy sauce. Chill.

When ready to serve, combine chilled shrimp, green onion and celery. Add mayonnaise mixture, and toss lightly. Garnish with cherry tomatoes and whole black olives. Recipe makes six to eight servings.

Divorcee Worried Over Boy Sitter Hired for Daughter

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I were divorced two years ago. I agreed to take our son and let my husband take our daughter. We discussed it with the children and discovered, happily, that this is what they wanted too.

Six months ago my husband married a flea brain who doesn't know enough to come in out of the rain. The problem is this: They go out at least four evenings a week. The sitter they have hired for Rosemary (now 12 years of age) is a 19-year-old college boy who lives in their apartment building.

I worry because Rosemary is large for her age and a Lolita if I ever saw one. But I hesitate to say anything because my husband and I agreed to leave each other alone and mind our own business. Should I break our mind your own-business pact and speak up? — Out Of The Picture

Dear Picture: I can't imagine anything more your business than what happens to your daughter. Tell your husband to engage a woman to sit with Lolita (I mean Rosemary). And don't waste any time.

DEAR ANN: Is there a law library in town — somewhere a person can get books and read up on his rights?

I sued a neighbor a few months ago and I'm sure I would have won the case if my lawyer had known his business. He appeared very dumb. When the judge asked him some questions he said a few words in Latin and sounded like he was stuck.

If I ever get into a legal fight again I want to be able to defend myself. Why pay out for my boy friend left for the good money to a lawyer who learns from the same books I could learn from if I knew where to get them? — Ounce of Prevention

Dear Ounce: Would you consider getting books on medicine and reading up on surgery so you could operate on yourself?

Law is more than books. It is a demanding profession which requires years of training, scholarship and experience. There are no short cuts. There are no Do-It-Yourself kits. So — if you should need a lawyer in the future, play it smart and hire one despite your feelings of disappointment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Be-over yours, why in the world would you want him?

Confidential to May Be My Last Chance. This is a poor reason to accept a proposal for marriage. Sometimes when a woman says "No" they both live happily ever after.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health or destroying someone you love, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope. (Copyright 1966)

Baked Lemon Cheesecake for Dieters

Many a top-notch restaurant by the home economics staff of has earned fame and fortune for a nationally known laboratory its own name-brand cheesecake. These home eco- nomists, whose job it is to test a carefully guarded secret, and develop low-calorie versions. Almost invariably, these famous of all sorts of favorite dishes, cheesecakes are an extravagant point out that the way in which za of richness, based on cream foods are prepared and cooked cheese, eggs, sugar and heavy can make a big difference in their calorie content.

For several obvious reasons. In this easy-to-make and relatively few home cooks at relatively inexpensive cheese- tempt to bake cheesecakes in cake recipe, they relied on a their own kitchens. Ingredients convenient-to-use, non-dairy are costly, preparation is com- powdered creamer to provide plex and time-consuming, and richness of flavor and velvety - the calorie tab is forbiddingly soft creaminess at a fraction of high for those concerned with the calories cost of perishable curbing calories.

Here is a special calorie- trimmed cheesecake developed

Further calorie reductions are accomplished through replace- ment of calorie-laden cream cheese with cottage cheese, and by sweetening the cheesecake with a natural-tasting, calori- free sweetener rather than with sugar. Just with the help of the powdered creamer and the non- calorie sweetener, nearly 1500 calories have been slashed from the recipe.

Here is the recipe:
BAKED LEMON CHEESE- CAKE.

2 cups graham cracker crumbs

2 teaspoons cinnamon
Calorie free sweetener to equal 1/4 cup sugar
8 tablespoons melted butter

2 pounds cottage cheese
Calorie free sweetener to equal 1 cup sugar
1/4 cup non-dairy creamer
3 tablespoons flour
4 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon lemon rind
1/2 cup hot water

TO MAKE CRUST: Combine all ingredients in first portion of recipe; blend well. Press crumbs into bottom and sides of 9-inch spring form pan, reserving one-fourth cup of mixture for topping.

TO MAKE FILLING: Force cheese through sieve or food mill; blend in sweetener, creamer, flour and egg yolks. Beat with electric mixer until smooth and well blended. Combine lemon juice, rind and water. Gradually blend into cheese mixture until smooth. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form; gently fold into the mixture. Sprinkle with reserved crumb mixture. Bake in a preheated, 350-degree oven for one hour, or until mixture is set in the center. Recipe makes 10 to 12 servings. Pour into servings.

Don't Rely On Normal Breaks Only

When the opponents hold five he still has a way to reach dummy, however, he should take the cards of a suit, the odds are better than 2 to 1 that one opponent holds two cards and the other opponent three cards of those five. These are attractive odds, but try for something better when it costs nothing to do so.

South thought he had a piece of cake when he played today's hand. He took the ace of spades, drew three rounds of trumps and cashed the ace and then the queen of clubs.

The noise you just heard was South's contract, falling and smashing to bits. East was sure to get a club trick and the ace of diamonds.

It should occur to South that an opponent sometimes has a singleton in clubs. South must try to protect his contract by developing diamond tricks while South can safely win the first spade and draw trumps. Then, dummy.

Time to Switch
When the clubs break badly, South can switch to diamonds. West plays low, and South must guess the right play from dummy. South should reason that West would probably put up the ace of diamonds if he had it. If South plays East for the ace of diamonds, the best play from dummy is the ten of diamonds.

East takes the ace of diamonds, but then dummy's king and queen are good. South gets to dummy with the queen of clubs and discards clubs on the good diamonds, thus making the slam.

St. Pius Group To Hear About Mental Health

The Christian Mothers Society of St. Pius X Catholic Church will hear an 8:15 p.m. program on mental health before the business meeting Wednesday at the school.

Speaker will be Mrs. Priscilla Catlin, Neenah. She will show the movie "Operation Friendship," telling about volunteer women, organized by Mrs. Catlin, who work with patients from Central State Hospital, Waupun. This is the first maximum security hospital in the United States to have a volunteer program.

Bedsprad Styles

Irresistibly feminine new bed-sprads include such confections as electro-tufted designs that look like "real" eyelet embroideries. These sprads — and matching accessories — are ultra-practical. Just wash them, let them drip dry — and forget the ironing!

Veal Recipe From Burgundy

PARIS (AP)—French men demand — and usually get — gold star cooking performances in the kitchen. This and high prices explain why the French lay out a record 45 per cent of their income for eating — compared to 19 per cent for Americans.

But the reward is in such palate soothers as Yvonne Donon's Veau aux Carottes (Veal with Carrots, passed down from her great-grandmother, who lived in the gastronomically wealthy province of Burgundy.

- ### VEAU AUX CAROTTES
- (Veal with Carrots)
4 to 6 tablespoons butter
1½ pounds boneless veal (shoulder or leg) in one piece
4 slices (8 ounces) lean bacon
1 pound carrots, sliced
4 medium-size onions, peeled and left whole Salt and pepper to taste
1 teaspoon sugar
1 sprig thyme and pinches of basil
¾ cup boiling water
- Melt four tablespoons of the butter in a stew pot. Pop in the piece of veal and brown lightly, remove and lay aside. Brown the bacon lightly in the stew pot; remove and lay aside. Add the carrots and onions to the pot; turn to coat with the butter, remove and lay aside.

If the pot is nearly dry, add two tablespoons butter. Then place the veal in the middle of the pot with the bacon on top. Place the carrots and onions around the meat. Add salt, pepper, sugar, thyme, basil and boiling water.

Cover tightly and simmer until veal is tender — about 1½ hours. If the cover is not tight, peek into the pot after 30 minutes and, if getting dry, add more boiling water. When done, there should be only a very small amount of sauce. (If bacon is not lean, skim off fat from sauce.)

If the veal resists slicing, the only way out is to cook for another 15 to 30 minutes. The dish may be prepared a day in advance and refrigerated

Then it should be gently — very gently — reheated for 30 to 40 minutes, and its flavor will be even better than when first made. The recipe makes four servings.

Civil Service Vets Asked to White House

Invitation Called Unprecedented in Current Politics

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — In a move unprecedented in contemporary politics, President Johnson has quietly ordered that civil servants — supposedly insulated from politics — be brought more intimately into his personal orbit.

Acting on the President's own orders, White House aides W.
Marvin Watson Jr. and Jake

Novak Evans

Jacobson have been meeting privately and individually with scores of middle-level government officials in a cozy White House setting.

What makes this so interesting is that many of those summoned to the White House are classified-service officials.
These are employees who have worked up through the ranks with civil service ratings and who are normally far removed from the political main-stream.

There was no overt hint of political pressure in the private chats these officials had with Watson and Jacobson starting in late January. Nevertheless, some of those who received the invitations left the White House with an uncomfortable feeling of coming under the eye of Big Brother.

First Batch in January

The first batch of about 15 officials was called to the White House on Jan. 26. Among them were several promoted by their respective agencies to the grade of GS 16 (with a starting salary of $19,619). One by one, each was invited into a room off the lobby of the West Wing for a five-minute chat with Watson and Jacobson, who were seated together behind a desk with the official's personnel record on the desk top. More than a few of the officials felt a bit queasy, as though they were under a large microscope.

Watson began by saying President Johnson wanted the nervous official to know how very important he regarded the men at the top of the Civil Service, and what a great job the official was doing. This was followed by congratulations to the official for having reached such a high rating — GS 16, 17 or 18.

Then Watson made it clear that the President expected top-level performance from the official. He closed by saying that the White House would feel free to call on the official for help if and when needed and, by the same token, the official should feel free to call on the White House for help.

They Were Uneasy

Some of those summoned in this fashion had never been inside the White House, despite years in the government. They were, to put it mildly, uneasy.

The unease was heightened when a follow-up letter from Watson, the President's appointments secretary and confidential assistant, arrived in the mail two days later. Watson's letter said thanks to the official for having stopped in at the White House and told how impressed the White House was with the "dedication" being shown in a difficult job.

It should be added that some of those who got the summons are not career civil servants but were recruited by the Johnson administration for a temporary period. Understandably, they were not unhappy about joining the Johnson orbit.

Said one such official to us:
"When Mr. Watson tells us we are the backbone of the system, it makes you feel pretty good. It takes some of the anonymity out of this huge, soulless bureaucracy."

Careerists are not so cheerful.
They have come up through the non-political Civil Service, working for both Republican and Democratic Presidents. Some of these, having now reached their new high level, are exempted from the ban on political activity applied to civil servants generally.

This makes them natural targets of pressure from the Johnson administration when it comes to buying a ticket or two to $100-a-plate Democratic party dinners.

The implicit message that Watson and Jacobson gave these officials was this: you owe your job to our good will.

Thus, President Johnson is drawing these middle-level bureaucrats close to his own office in the White House. Those who normally operate on the outer fringes of power are now being exposed to the power vortex, and they're wondering what's going to happen next.

Summons to be Served Today On Schrantz, Johnson, Galbraith

Summons were to be served today on three state officials in order to give Outagamie County officials an opportunity to publicly question them on the selection of a northeast Green Bay site for the northeastern branch of the University of Wisconsin.

County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath said the county Tuesday afternoon filed a document calling for the appearance of Roger Schrantz, State Building Commission secretary; Walter K. Johnson, state planner, and James Galbraith, state architect, at public discovery proceedings in Dane County.

The action is being brought by Outagamie County and Russell DeLaHunt, George E. Greenwood, Gerhard K. Willecke and Clarence A. Mitchell, Appleton mayor, as individuals.

The summonses order the three officials to appear April 4 and 5 before Dane County Court Commissioner Kenneth M. Orchard in Madison.

Additional Data

At the discovery proceedings, the state officials will be asked by Outagamie County legal counsel for additional information regarding the selection of the Green Bay site.

Schrantz will appear at 1:30 p.m. April 4, and Galbraith will appear at 9 a.m. April 5, and Johnson at 1:30 p.m.

Ponath said that summonses will also be served on other state officials including the members of the State Building Commission and those administrators concerned with the disbursement of funds for the university.

Committee Advice

A Site Selection Committee Feb. 25 recommended the Shorewood site in northeast Green Bay for the new university.

Outagamie County hopes to block spending of $400,000 by the State Building Commission for preliminary planning, surveys and architectural design.

The county is interested in obtaining all facts:

VP Home Bill Passes House, Before Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate over which Hubert H. Humphrey presides will decide the fate of a bill to provide an official residence for Humphrey and his successors as vice president.

By a partisan vote of 197 to 184, the House passed a bill Tuesday calling for expenditure of $750,000 to build a “little White House” on 10 acres of government-owned land on the grounds of the Naval Observatory.

Only six Republicans voted for the measure.

The Senate passed last year a bill to create a commission to study the need for a vice-presidential residence and report within 18 months its recommendations for a site.

The House measure would permit construction of the home in time for Humphrey to occupy it before his term expires in January 1969. He lives now in suburban Chevy Chase, Md.

Johnson Warns Allies France Imperils NATO

President Expresses Confidence 14 Nations Will Preserve Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson warned the Atlantic Allies today that President Charles de Gaulle's efforts to reform their alliance could imperil the security of France and endanger the safety of the Western world.

While he expressed confidence that the United States and 13 allies will stick together to preserve NATO, without France if necessary, Johnson said:

“If our collective effort should falter — and our common determination be eroded — the foundations of the alliance's present stability would be shaken.”

Not Mentioned

Johnson never mentioned De Gaulle by name in his first public response by him since the French president served notice three weeks ago that he intends to pull his military forces out of NATO, oust NATO military headquarters from France and recover control of U.S. and Allied NATO bases on French territory.

Johnson spoke at the State Department to an audience of Foreign Service officers. Twenty-four hours earlier he had sent a personal message to De Gaulle, responding to an earlier letter from De Gaulle setting forth De Gaulle's policies on the future of NATO.

The split between Johnson and De Gaulle on the NATO issue is complete. De Gaulle wants to dismantle the NATO military system and preserve only the Atlantic Alliance pledge of 15 allies to help each other in case of attack. Johnson said the military system is an essential part of deterring aggression.

Work Together

Johnson said NATO reform should be accomplished by the Allies working together, seeking to improve rather than to dismantle the defense system.

“Consultation, not isolation, is the route to reform,” he said. It was evident his reference to “isolation” was meant to apply to De Gaulle.

The chief executive said at the outset that “we do not believe there is any righteousness in standing pat” on NATO. He added: “If any organization is alive and vital — if it is to have meaning for all time as well as for any particular time

— it must grow and respond and yield to change.”

Then, in what amounted to a rather mildly phrased lecture to De Gaulle, Johnson asserted:

“Of course NATO should adapt to the changing needs of the times. But we believe just as firmly that such change must be wrought by the member nations working with one another within the alliance. Consultation, not isolation, is the route to reform.”

Common Danger

The chief executive said all 15 NATO nations share a common danger — division — and can share one safety in unity.

Johnson at one point appealed to De Gaulle, in effect, to reconsider his independent posture, saying:

“We are hopeful that no member of the treaty will long remain withdrawn from the mutual affairs and obligations of the Atlantic. A place of respect and responsibility will await the ally who decides to return to the common task.”

Expressing a firm conviction that NATO offers the best assurance of avoiding war in the Atlantic world, Johnson said:

“If our collective efforts should falter — and our common determination be eroded — the foundation of the Atlantic's present stability would be shaken.”

He said “the mightiest arsenal in the world will deter no aggressor who knows his victims are too divided to decide and too unready to respond.” He said that was the lesson of two world wars.

In another indirect jab at De Gaulle, Johnson said:

Appeal for Peace, Unity

Pope, Anglican Leader Meet For First Time in 500 Years

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A meeting between the Pope and the Anglican Archbishop of Canterbury met officially today for the first time in more than five centuries, voiced hopes for Christian unity and world peace, and embraced.

“You rebuild a bridge which for centuries has lain fallen between the Church of Rome and the Church of Canterbury,” Pope Paul VI told Dr. Michael Ramsey, primate of the world's 45 million Anglicans.

The Pope called the meeting in the Vatican's Sistine Chapel “a great day” in history and said it had meaning “for peace among the nations of the world and for promotion of Christian brotherhood among men.”

Appeal for Peace

“I have come with the longing in my heart, which I know to be in your heart also, that we may by our meeting together help in the fulfillment of the prayer of our divine Lord that all His disciples may come to unity in the truth,” Dr. Ramsey said.

He said he was joining his voice to Pope Paul's to appeal for an end to war in the world.

It was the first official meeting between an Archbishop of Canterbury and a Pope since King Henry VIII separated the Church of England from Rome in 1534. Today's meeting was preceded by a brief courtesy call by Dr. Ramsey's predecessor, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, on Pope John XXIII five years ago.

In their official greetings both the Pope and the archbishop took note of the great differences that separate their churches. They made clear they expect no great changes to come immediately.

“But charity can, and must, from now on be exercised between us, and show forth its mysterious and prodigious strength,” the Pope said.

“It is my hope, and the hope of Your Holiness, too, that there may be increasing dialogue,” Dr. Ramsey said.

The two met in the 16th-century chapel where the Pope was elected in June 1963. It was the first time the pontiff had used the chapel to receive a visitor.

There was a deep hush in the chapel, as the 68-year-old pontiff and the 61-year-old archbishop rose from their chairs, turned to each other and embraced.

Expect Approval Of Added Funds For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to give final congressional approval and send to President Johnson today an emergency $13.1-billion appropriation bill to help pay for the stepped-up war in Viet Nam.

The bill's money figure — the exact amount requested by the President — is not in dispute. The House voted the funds last week but the Senate, in giving its 87-2 approval Tuesday, added a minor amendment.

The amendment would limit the Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's authority to transfer funds in support of South Vietnamese and other Allied troops.

Plains States Hit By Spring Blizzard

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A roaring spring blizzard whipped through the Plains states today, leaving behind deep snows which were whirled into drifts by biting winds.

Six deaths were attributed to the blizzard: three in Nebraska, two in Wyoming and one in South Dakota.

Much of South Dakota's Black Hills had up to two feet of snow. Winds measured at 50 to 70 miles per hour whirled across Nebraska Tuesday and Tuesday night. All roads were treacherous and were impassable in central and western areas.

School Bus

Twenty-nine children, a driver and a teacher spent the night huddled in blankets in a stalled school bus between Ord and Loup City in central Nebraska.

At O'Neill in the same area, an expectant mother finally reached a hospital via a wreck-truck after two cars tried to get her to a hospital and both became stalled.

Many power and telephone lines were down in the central and northern areas as up to 10 inches of snow fell.

Eppley Field in Omaha, Neb., was blacked out by a power failure Tuesday night and all outgoing flights were canceled. There were many power breaks in the Omaha metropolitan area.

No Visibility

Strong winds lashed New Mexico and blew dust so hard that visibility dropped to zero at times. Temperatures dropped 31

Wisconsin Man Held in Fatal Chicago Crash

CHICAGO (AP) — Six Chicago residents, including four sisters, were killed Tuesday in a flaming car-truck collision on Chicago's rain-soaked Kennedy Expressway.

The victims were: Mrs. Bertha Sterling, 24, the mother of two; and her sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Cravens, 26, mother of two; Mrs. Rose Lee McGrady, 22, and Miss Shirley Washington, 19.

Mrs. Nanneen Dyson, 42, mother-in-law of Mrs. McGrady.

Curtis Wallace, 50, driver of the car.

All were in a car that was struck in the rear by a truck driven by Maurice Atkinson, 28, of Trevor, Wis., who was not injured. He was charged with reckless homicide and driving too fast for conditions.

Midwestern Storm Lashes Wisconsin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A spring snowstorm rapidly developing into blizzard proportions lashed into western Wisconsin today.

The Weather Bureau warned that similar conditions would spread across the state by tonight.

Winds were gusting to 50 miles an hour as the temperatures sagged to the mid and upper 20s. The four to six inches of snow that fell in the pre-dawn hours forced the closing of Interstate 94 from Eau Claire to Hudson in St. Croix County. Sander trucks were stuck on the highway. Highway 12 from Eau Claire to Black River Falls was barely passable this morning with zero visibility. The State Traffic Patrol said: “You can't see anything.”

Roads Closed

Rural roads in Eau Claire County were closed.

Winds in the western part of Wisconsin were blowing steadily at 20 miles per hour today and were expected to increase to as much as 40 during the day and tonight.

The center of the storm area that was whipping through the upper Midwest was in southwestern Wisconsin this morning.

Heavy lightning and thunder accompanied the snow in many of fundamental change areas along the storm front. And there was considerable rain in the southern part of Wisconsin prior to the arrival of snow.

La Crosse had 1.60 inches of liquid precipitation by daybreak today. The southwestern area near Dubuque, Iowa, recorded 1.10 inches. Lone Rock and

Change Sweeps Indonesia

EDITOR'S NOTE—Stanley M. Swinton, an assistant general manager of The Associated Press, first went to Indonesia in early 1946 and headed The AP's Jakarta office in 1946-47 during the Indonesian fight for independence. Tuesday he was one of the first American newsmen admitted to the country since President Sukarno expelled U.S. news representatives Jan. 19.

BY STANLEY M. SWINTON
JAKARTA (AP) — The wind is sweeping across Indonesia. President Sukarno officially remains chief of state, but army Lt. Gen. Suharto and his military allies hold the real power.

The best-informed sources in this hot and humid capital believe the new leaders are far more than a military junta. They expect Suharto and his colleagues to install a primarily civilian government with powerful military backing behind the scenes.

Internationally, Indonesia's new regime is expected to be neutralist in deed as well as word. Sukarno gave lip service to neutralism but moved steadily toward the Chinese Communist camp. The new Indonesia is expected to follow the type of international role played by the late Prime Minister Nehru of India.

Restore Economy
Men long on the scene here predict that in the years immediately ahead, Indonesia's new leaders will dedicate themselves to restoring the nation's shattered economy.

Food is the immediate problem. Rice is the staple for Indonesia's more than 165 million people. Today it costs 30 times what it did 14 months ago.

The rains came late this year, so the rice harvest will not take place until May, a month late. In the chaos of the last year, transport was disrupted, so that rice shortages have been aggravated in the cities and in such densely populated rural areas as Central and East Java.

So far Indonesia's new leaders have not asked for outside assistance to meet the growing food shortage. When they do, they are likely to turn to Japan or some other similar nation, rather than to the United States or the Soviet Union.

Avoid Criticism

Oppose Saigon Rule New Demonstrations Crop Up in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — New antigovernment demonstrations erupted in Da Nang and Hue today, intensifying the political dispute between Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime and the Buddhist leadership. For the first time there were anti American overtones.

Ten thousand persons milled about the city hall in Hue, the old imperial capital. Some carried banners attacking the United States for supporting Ky's military rule.

However, one knot of demonstrators carried a banner saying: “We thank our American friends for helping us fight the Viet Cong.”

Lacked Doors

American and Vietnamese employees at the nearby U.S. Information Service building hastily locked doors and hid equipment as rumors flew that the demonstrators might sack the center.

Two thousand persons attended an antigovernment rally in Da Nang amid another general strike that closed most shops in the northern military center.

The flurry of new agitation for ouster of the Saigon government took the spotlight from the fighting fronts. Another 100 bodies were found today by U.S. Marines at the scene of their battle with two Communist battalions about 70 miles south of Da Nang on Monday.

K-C Plant Tell-Sell Memphis Plant Project Outlined for Optimists

NEENAH — "Operation Tell and Sell," an employee initiated promotional program for Kimberly Clark and Memphis-made products is bringing about a new sense of pride in Memphis and is causing marketing men to be "overjoyed."

Lester Hensen, a maintenance mechanic at the Kimberly Clark Corp. mill in Memphis for the last 19 years, outlined the program he started two years ago to members of the Neenah-Menasha Optimist Club Tuesday.

He said he got the promotion idea when friends told him they didn't know some of the products the Memphis mill made. "So I decided to tell them about our work."

Without encouragement from management he contacted fellow workers and formed a 15-man committee from all the major departments of the mill. After a few months a new spirit was noted in Memphis.

A Buy Memphis Made Products campaign was started, a poster contest initiated by children of mill workers went city-wide as schools took up the challenge and the employees started devoting their spare moments to promoting the paper products.

Hensen estimated some 900 of the 1,200 employees at the Kimberly Clark mill have participated in the program. Workers stood alongside product displays in supermarkets and handed out leaflets and products. Others helped set up displays at 17 other industries which accepted the promotion exchange agreement.

The group held an open house at the Memphis mill which attracted 3,300 visitors last April. And recently hundreds of volunteers passed out 60,000 rolls of decorated towels to introduce the new product to the city's residents.

The program has attracted widespread attention was reported in several trade publications and even was included in the Congressional Record.

Hensen said Tell and Sell has generated enthusiasm among the workers and their families and other members of the community are taking notice of the K-C employees and their promotion of Memphis. The idea is spreading to other industries in that city and in other communities.

Create Jobs

By promoting Memphis products we feel we are creating a climate for industrial expansion," he said. "And that will create new jobs and our children will stay in the community."

Hensen said the atmosphere had much to do with the establishment of the new RCA plant in Memphis.

He admitted the program was indebted to good publicity from local newspapers which has instilled a deep pride among the workers and citizens of Memphis.

When asked about the possibility of starting similar programs in other cities, Hensen said Kimberly Clark surely would want such a program in other cities but the initiative must come from the hourly paid group.

8 Freight Cars Leave Tracks In Soo Mishap

Accident at Neenah Crossing During Switching Operation

NEENAH — While switching two cars on the Soo Line tracks collided early Wednesday, jamming boxcars all the way down the line. One of the two cars was derailed and seven others down the line jumped their tracks.

Several of the cars were badly damaged with sides smashed in and track assemblies torn from the car bodies.

The jam up was on two sets of switching tracks south of Cecil Street and along Harrison Street. The main tracks were not affected and no one was hurt.

No Explanation

None of the cars tipped completely over but several were thrown at right angles to the track.

Grain spilled onto the track from one of the boxcars and the end of another was buried in mud and ditch water. Some of the cars were empty but two were loaded with heavy railroad ties.

Soo Line officials said they were still investigating the 3:15 a.m. accident and stated they did not know what caused the derailment.

Workers in the yard who were beginning clearing operations this morning said the collision had occurred because one car had not been given clearance. The result they said was that one string of cars was backed into another sitting on a converging and joining piece of track.

Attorney Says Beer License OK for Market

Council Queries Bid of Firm at Site Near School

There appears to be no legal barrier to the city issuing a beer license to a supermarket within 300 feet of a northeast-side school building, City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich said Tuesday night.

Froehlich told the city council's welfare ordinance committee that state law did regulate the location of establishments holding liquor licenses.

In an opinion requested by Van Handel, 58, 903 Depot St., the committee, Froehlich said the selling of beer did not fall within the jurisdiction of the statute prohibiting intoxicating beverages from being sold within 300 feet of a school church or hospital.

The committee with Ald. Norman Bever (20th) dissenting recommended approval of issuing a beer license to Food Queen, a new supermarket opening at 2702 N. Oneida St.

The store is located across the street from Fox Valley Lutheran High School.

Originally when the license application was received, Police Chief Earl O. Wolff raised the question whether a beer license could be issued that close to a school building and asked for clarification.

Im just asking the question out loud whether it is good to sell beer that close to a school, Ald. Bever said. What is there to prevent students from getting

$100,000 Loan to Be Discussed at School Meeting

KIMBERLY — A special meeting of voters of the Kimberly School District will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the junior high school auditorium to vote on whether to authorize borrowing of $100,000 with which to equip and complete construction at the Senior High School.

School officials will explain methods which can be used for financing. Additional funds are needed as construction costs ran higher than anticipated when the original $42,000 bond issue was floated.

Village Man Forfeits Bond After Accident

LITTLE CHUTE — Willard Van Handel, 58, 903 Depot St., forfeited bond of the selling of beer did not fall within the jurisdiction of the municipal justice court Monday night to answer to charges of inattentive driving.

Van Handel was arrested March 15 after the car he was driving was involved in an accident with a parked auto on Depot Street.

a six pack during the noon hour.

Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) said he didn't think there was much difference if beer was sold 300 or 600 feet from a school building.

If they want to get it (beer), they will walk six blocks to get it if they have to," Thompson remarked.

Thompson said if it had been a request for permission to have a beer bar next door to the school that would be a different matter and would mean trouble.

Kenosha Assemblyman

Gain Ally in UW Fight

MENASHA — Kenosha Assemblyman George Molinaro, chairman of the powerful joint committee of finance, has sent a letter to Menasha indicating he may ally himself with the Fox Cities in fighting the site selection for the new university in Green Bay.

In the letter received by City Clerk Harry Kind today, Molinaro said he would "do everything" to see that the original intent of the legislation creating the new Northwestern University of Wisconsin is carried out.

The site selection committee has ignored the criteria set up by the legislature for the selection of a four-year extension center in the northeastern and southeastern sections of the state and has further ignored its responsibilities by meeting in secret," he said.

Molinaro, who received a copy of the Menasha resolution opposing the site selection on the northeast edge of Green Bay, commended the Menasha council's stand.

Kenosha is now engaged in a contest with Racine for the southeastern university campus, and both sides are reportedly unhappy over the delay by the site selection committee in naming a site in that part of the state.

Molinaro is expected to play an influential role in any legislative fight over appropriations for the new campus. Only funds for the initial planning fees have been allocated at this point.

Civil Rights Priest Asks for Integration

School Board for maintaining "bussing for segregation." Father Groppi explained that Negro pupils attending overcrowded schools in Milwaukee inner core are bussed to schools on the fringe area of the inner core and taught in classes separate from the white pupils.

"The pupils have segregated classes, segregated recreation periods and segregated lunch hours," he commented, citing that the Negro pupils are bussed back to the Negro school for lunch and then brought back to the white school for afternoon classes.

Administratively Convenient

Father Groppi said the school board justifies the bussing program by saying it is "administratively convenient."

He said that segregation "always increases race consciousness," adding that compensatory education is not the answer unless it is coupled with integrated education.

"It is impossible for human beings to be happy when they are denied their God-given rights," Father Groppi exclaimed.

The civil rights priest, as he is called in Milwaukee, noted that in Alabama, the confederate flag, not the United States flag, flies above the state expression of their belief in a segregated system, a white Caucasian system," Father Groppi noted.

He described some of his experiences while participating in civil rights activities in the south, particularly in Alabama.

"When Gov. George Wallace was campaigning in Wisconsin during the 1964 presidential election, he invited Wisconsin residents to visit his state," Father Groppi reminded the group. "We took his invitation seriously," he explained.

Father Groppi told the audience that various ways are used to prevent Negroes from registering to vote. He cited a case where a woman was turned down 13 times. "One person was asked how many bubbles there are in a bar of soap," the dynamic speaking priest noted.

Minority Groups

The Irish, Italians and Polish were cited by Father Groppi as minority groups who attained a place in American society only after agitation.

"No minority group in history has attained its rights without some agitation," he commented, adding that "whenever a group is confined to a rundown, unlivable area, there is going to be anti-social behavior."

Father Groppi said he "is not going to justify the apathy of the Catholic Church in the past regarding the Negro's plight."

He told the audience, "You can't sit back and wait for the bishop to give the word to do something. Nothing will ever get done that way."

Father Groppi fears that people are "ingrained with the mentality of not moving until you hear from someone above. You have got to have personal involvement," he added.

The priest, who is a curate at a parish in Milwaukee's inner core, said white people often are hindered in assessing the problem because of "their white, middle class background and attitudes."

Father Groppi told the group that he "will be identified with my parishioners in every area of their lives, if it means going to jail, being socially ostracized or hanging from a tree in Mississippi. This is the place of a priest," he added, "with his parishioners."

Officials Rule No Take Off From Roadway

St. Pius grade schools, and Fox Valley Lutheran High, are walking home. Many live on the far northwest side of the city. Other children play in the area.

No one has heard from Skafit since he got the police citation, the committee was told.

FAA Investigates

A federal Aviation Agency investigator from Milwaukee said during a telephone conversation this morning that Skafit apparently did not violate any federal regulations concerning aircraft when he made his landing on the northwest side Monday afternoon.

The investigator said that as far as he could determine during a study Tuesday, the airplane landed on a roadway that was not now being used as a street for vehicle traffic, but probably will be used in the future.

The FAA agent, who spent much of Tuesday in Appleton, said the landing and taxing in this case did not constitute a public hazard. He said this was determined after looking over the area in which the landing was made and after talking to persons who were in the area at the time.

Officials of the Milwaukee FAA office Tuesday that normally, as far as they were concerned, in a situation such as this the pilot would be allowed to take off after police first cleared the area to make sure the takeoff did not constitute a hazard and then took steps to assure there would be no traffic in the immediate area.

Mail Rates to Increase at T-C Post Offices

NEENAH - MENASHA—Increases in money orders, insurance, registry, certified mail and C.O.D. rates will become effective this Saturday in both Twin City post offices.

The cost of operating these five special services now exceeds revenues on a nation-wide scale by $60 million annually. The fee increases are expected to narrow the cost-revenue gap by $36 million.

Domestic and international money order fees will be increased five cents. The minimum fee for insurance will be 20 cents instead of 10 cents for up to $15 of insurance. Other insurance rates are 30 cents up to $50; 40 cents up to $100; 50 cents up to $150, and 60 cents for up to $200.

A single fee of 75 cents for values up to $100 will be charged in registry fees. The fees for articles valued in excess of $100 will remain unchanged.

A single fee bracket will also be established for C.O.D. with a charge of 60 cents for amounts up to $10. No change in the fees covering items valued at more than $10.

The fee for certified mail has been increased from 20 cents to 30 cents.

Milk Production Slightly Lower

MADISON (AP)—Wisconsin's milk production in February was eight per cent less than the same month in 1965 and one per cent less than the average for the month, the State Department of Agriculture reported today.

Production amounted to 1,451,000 pounds, compared with 1,580,000 in February last year. The decrease resulted from a smaller number of cows and a reduction in average output per cow, the department said.

Thirty other states reported decreases in February.

Roy Schumacher
Elks Lodge Of Appleton Picks Officers

Roy J. Schumacher was elected exalted ruler of Appleton Elks Lodge No. 337 Tuesday night, succeeding Wendell H. Smith.

Loren Spence was elected leading knight; Kenneth Berner, loyal knight; and Jacob VanLeuven, lecturing knight.

Peter J. DeLain was re-elected secretary, and Robert Zschaechner was re-elected treasurer. Robert Liethen was named trustee for five years, succeeding Harry Koller, retired.

Schumacher will be delegate to the grand lodge convention in July. Smith will be alternate.

The new exalted ruler will announce appointive officers later. All will take over officially at a public installation Saturday night, April 2.

Dramatic Reading Set at Church

NEENAH—A dramatic reading of the play, "The Terrible Meek" by Charles J. Rann Kennedy will be presented at 7:30 p.m. today in St. Paul's Lutheran Church is a part of the Lenten series "Lent and the Fine Arts."

Readers will be Marnette Roth, Michael Pirang and the Rev. Frederick Seefeldt, assistant pastor of the congregation recently in the Fox Valley University Center product of "The Hollow Crown."

Miss Roth is a senior at Neenah High School, a member of the Thespians and Riverside Players. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth, 609 Hanson St.

Pirang is a senior at Wisconsin State University, Oshkosh, and is majoring in English and speech. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Pirang, 219 Nicolet Blvd.

Catholics Told Christians Must be Apostles in World

Persons attending the parish mission at St. Mary Catholic Church were told Tuesday of the importance of a Christian to be an apostle.

The two Paulist priests who are conducting the mission noted that a true Christian has a responsibility to witness his faith in the world, and to do whatever he can to bring people to love God by their example and their interest.

"In the United States," Rev. Walter Anthony said, "we have almost 100 million people who are not churchgoers. This makes America one of the largest mission fields in the whole world. We Christians have a challenge to reach these today."

Wood Industry Warned of Pending Peril

food industry, both of which are examples of rapidly acquired efficiency.

Subsidizing Inefficiency

We have been subsidizing inefficiency," said James Hense, of the American Pulpwood Association, Wausau. He stated that small operators, part timers and moonlighters will have to improve their methods if they wish to stay in the wood business.

Even a 10 per cent increase in production, he estimated, would immediately relieve the current labor shortage.

A panel of speakers discussed practical applications of recent developments in scientific forestry. The new techniques, it was brought out, are means of making better use of time and labor or improve the production of the forests.

Use of planes, helicopters and snowmobiles in forest reconnaissance was described by Terry Michael, of Solon Springs, district forest manager for the Mosinee Paper Mills.

Roland Rouse, of Iron Mountain, Mich., told how the Kimberly-Clark Corp. is using herbicides to increase the growth rate of forest trees. New techniques in mapping and cruising were described by Edward Steigerwaldt, consulting forester at Tomahawk.

Bear Creek Man Found Guilty Of Taking Auto

Daniel E. Ybanez, 21, Bear Creek, Tuesday afternoon pleaded no contest to a charge of operating a car without the owner's consent and was found guilty by County Judge Gustave J. Keller.

Ybanez had waived a preliminary examination. Ybanez will be sentenced April 5 after a pre-sentence investigation has been completed.

The court named an attorney for Ybanez Monday afternoon after the Bear Creek man was found indigent. He was arrested Sunday by Bear Creek Constable David Fletcher in connection with the taking of a car owned by Edwin Reinke.

The Bear Creek man also will be sentenced April 5 on a disorderly conduct count which he admitted Monday. The disorderly charge also was filed by the Bear Creek constable following an incident Sunday.

Officials Cautious At Consideration For Atom Smasher

Stoughton One of Six Possible Sites for $375 Million Complex

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin remains in the running for a $375 million atomic bonanza, and state officials are pleased but cautious.

"There is a long road to travel before this becomes a reality," said Gov. Warren P. Knowles after Stoughton, Wis. was named as one of six sites still under consideration for a mammoth federally financed atom smasher.

"We're not breaking out the champagne yet," said Fred E. Mills, director of the Midwest Universities Research Association that now operates a small atom smasher at Stoughton.

Mills said "I see no reason why the 200 BEV machine can't be a smashing success here."

Just what the state can do to improve its chances is not yet clear.

Funds Pledged

The Legislature reconvenes in May and is expected to be ready to adopt any proposal that would help land the project. The Legislature has already pledged up to $10 million in state funds to make any improvements required by the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC is expected but not required, to choose one of the six sites for the project, which will cost at least $60 million a year to operate.

In the running besides Stoughton are Ann Arbor, Mich.; Upton, N. Y.; Denver, Colo.; the Sierra foothills near Sacramento, Calif. and South Barrington, Ill.

The project will be built around an accelerator nearly a mile in diameter that will produce beams of protons with energies of 200 billion electron volts (BEV). The accelerator

Keystone Cops Yarn Senate Hears About Investigation Of Critics of GM Safety Measures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff listened to the private detective spin a Keystone Cops yarn and then looked with some sympathy toward the president of General Motors.

"I can imagine Mr. Roche is wondering why General Motors spent $6,700," said Ribicoff, chairman of the Senate Government Operations subcommittee. "For the $6,700 General Motors bought an investigation of Ralph Nader, young attorney and critic of auto safety, particularly of GM's Corvair—and put GM President James M. Roche in the position of apologizing twice to Nader and Ribicoff's subcommittee."

Roche apologized once before private investigator Vincent Gillen testified and then did it again after Gillen, hired by GM to carry out the investigation, had his say and crossed swords with Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Learn Background
The aim of the investigation, Roche said, was to gather information about Nader's background as an attorney and expert on safety and to learn whether he had any connection with some hundred lawsuits in volving about $40 million in damage claims relating to the design of 1960 through 1963 Corvairs.

But before the investigation came to a halt Nader's personal life, his high school and college grades, his eating habits and sex life all came under the scrutiny of Gillen's private eyes in interviews with Nader's friends and associates and in a period of direct surveillance of him.

To the extent that General Motors bears responsibility, I want to apologize here and now to the members of this subcommittee and Mr. Nader," said Roche.

Gillen, a man with wavy gray hair and black-framed glasses, expressed his thanks to the subcommittee for "this opportunity to inform you frankly and fully."

Hedging Inflation With Tax Hike Now Rejected by LBJ

Way Left Open For Possible Future Increase
Recovery Effort
Dissection, Study Set For Retrieved H-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has firmly rejected suggestions for an immediate tax increase as a hedge against inflation.

But he left the door open for a possible tax boost later if his administration feels it is needed.

"We don't want to act prematurely," Johnson told a news conference Tuesday. "We don't want to put on the brakes too fast."

Johnson cited signs of a slowdown in the economy — including a 17 per cent drop in housing starts during February — and said the administration wants to assess the effects of the recently signed tax measure before taking any new anti-inflationary steps.

This measure designed to raise about $6 billion over the next 15 months reimposed excise taxes which were reduced last Jan. 1, and will speed collections of corporate and personal income taxes.

In the impromptu news conference in his office, Johnson also

Waupaca, Waushara Lakes Offer Good Fishing for Trout

Lantern Essential Item for Nighttime Angling in Deep Water

BY JIM HARR

Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Take a sunnier evening. Fish a trout from the shore as the sun sinks in the west and paints an orange glow in the sky.

Feel the cooling of the light trout fishing. Also, used and freeze as it ripples the water. Lean back and drink in the freshness that only the outdoors could provide.

How can you do these things? Well — even better yet — you can do these things and catch trout to yourself a tasty meal of trout besides.

Trout Planted

Wisconsin has numerous lakes in which trout have been planted and now offer some top catch fishing. A Fox Cities area resident will be happy to know that there are a number of these within about an hour's driving distance making it possible to reach them after enjoying your regular supper at home.

That's one thing about fishing these lakes for trout. The fish cooperate. But most often they bite best after dark. Consequently, one of the essential items that you have to take along is a dependable lantern and it also is a good idea to have a flashlight or two with you.

In this area, most of the trout fishing lakes are in the south in part of Waupaca County or in Waushara County. Besides these spots, there is popular Sunset Lake in Portage County or Little Round Lake in Calumet County near Prillion.

Names of Lakes

The names of some of the most popular lakes in Waupaca and Waushara counties include Spencer Lake, Pearl Lake and Bantow. All of these lakes have public access spots and require no special permits. The old favorite and dependable nightcrawler is probably the most effective bait for night trout fishing. Also, used and sometimes with a good deal of success are mayfly nymphs or small minnows. Late in the summer, when the trout have moved to the cooler, deeper waters, anglers will use a series of cowbells and artificial baits to entice the fish.

The method in which you bait

the hook is very important in trout fishing in a lake. The worm must look as natural as possible or the trout will probably neglect it entirely. The minnow should be kept lively and if you are using nymphs, they also should be kept alive or in motion by moving the line continually.

Move Around

If you are fishing a lake for the first time, the best advice is to move around until you locate the fish or try fishing in an area where you see other anglers out for trout. You will be able to tell the trout fishermen because they will be on the lake long after the last outboard motor has quieted down and the lantern will be hanging over the side of the boat.

Some nights you may have an entire lake to yourself. You can sit by and hear the frogs croaking far off on owl hoots in a tree and off through the blackness you hear a splash as a fish grabs a bug off the surface.

If you have some soul searching to do, this is the time for it. You may even forget that you're supposed to be fishing.

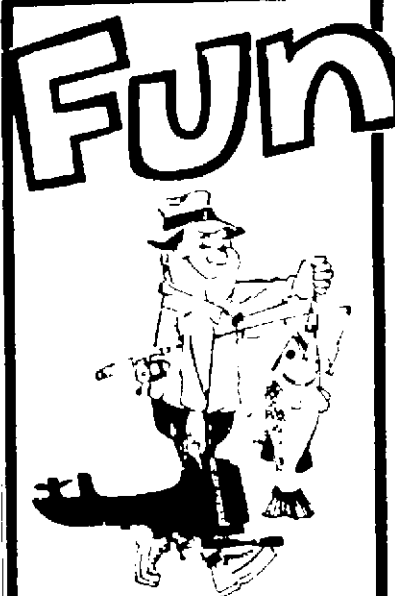

Authorize More Facilities at Campgrounds

MADISON — Camping fans will soon have more facilities available to them at three of the popular state campgrounds in the Fox River Valley and environs.

The state forests and parks division has been authorized to build 58 additional camp units at High Cliff State Forest park at a cost of $5,000, 34 new units at Hartman's Creek recreation area in Waupaca County at a cost of $6,000, and 38 new units with access roads at Point Beach State Forest on the Lake Michigan shore in Manitowish County at $8,000.

Organist Don Huber will be featured before and during the entertainment program at the Outagamie Conservation Club's Fisherman's Party Saturday night at the Appleton Senior High School auditorium.

Outagamie Will Question Officials On New UW Site

Summons to be Served Today
On Schrantz, Johnson, Galbraith

Summons were to be served today on three state officials in order to give Outagamie County officials an opportunity to publicly question them on the selection of a northeast Green Bay site for the northeastern branch of the University of Wisconsin.

County Corporation Counsel A. W. Ponath said the county Tuesday afternoon filed a document calling for the appearance of Roger Schrantz, State Building Commission secretary; Walter K. Johnson, state planner; and James Galbraith, state architect, at public discovery proceedings in Dane County.

The summonses order the three officials to appear April 4 and 5 before Dane County Court Commissioner Kenneth M. Orchard in Madison.

Additional Data

At the discovery proceedings, the state officials will be asked by Outagamie County legal counsel for additional information regarding the selection of the Green Bay site.

Schrantz will appear at 1:30 p.m. April 4, and Galbraith will appear at 9 a.m. April 5, and Johnson at 1:30 p.m.

Ponath said that summonses will also be served on other state officials including the members of the State Building Commission and those administrators concerned with the disbursement of funds for the university. Governor Knowles is chairman of the building commission.

Committee Advice

A Site Selection Committee Feb. 25 recommended the Shorewood site in northeast Green Bay for the new university. The recommendation was later adopted by the Coordinating Committee on Higher Education (CCHHE) and the State Building Commission.

Outagamie County hopes to block spending of $400,000 by the State Building Commission for preliminary planning, surveys and architectural design. The county is interested in obtaining all facts.

"Disclosing the actions of an expectant mother finally reached a hospital via a wreck-time of its organization to the rendition of its report dated Feb. 25."

—Given to the CCHHE by the site committee regarding the various proposed sites and any information gathered by the site committee for the evaluation and selection of a site or sites.

VP Home Bill Passes House, Before Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate over which Hubert H. Humphrey presides will decide the fate of a bill to provide an official residence for Humphrey and his successors as vice president.

By a partisan vote of 197 to 184, the House passed a bill Tuesday calling for expenditure of $750,000 to build a "little White House" on 10 acres of government-owned land on the grounds of the Naval Observatory.

Only six Republicans voted for the measure.

The Senate passed last year a bill to create a commission to study the need for a vice-presidential residence and report within 18 months its recommendations for a site.

The House measure would permit construction of the home in time for Humphrey to occupy it before his term expires in January 1969. He lives now in suburban Chevy Chase, Md.

Plains States Hit By Spring Blizzard

Six Deaths Blamed on Storm
In Nebraska, Wyoming, Dakota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A roaring spring blizzard whipped through the Plains states today, leaving behind deep snows which were whirled into drifts by biting winds.

Six deaths were attributed to the blizzard: three in Nebraska, two in Wyoming and one in South Dakota.

Much of South Dakota's Black Hills had up to two feet of snow. Winds measured at 50 to 70 miles per hour swirled across Nebraska Tuesday and Tuesday night. All roads were treacherous and were impassable in central and western areas.

Many power and telephone lines were down in the central and northern areas as up to 10 inches of snow fell.

Eppley Field in Omaha, Neb., was blacked out by a power failure Tuesday night and all outgoing flights were canceled. There were many power breaks in the Omaha metropolitan area.

Wisconsin Man Held in Fatal Chicago Crash

CHICAGO (AP)—Six Chicago residents, including four sisters, were killed Tuesday in a flaming car-truck collision on Chicago's rain-soaked Kennedy Expressway.

The victims were: Mrs. Bertha Sterling, 24, the mother of two; and her sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Cravens, 26, mother of two; Mrs. Rose Lee McGrady, 22, and Miss Shirley Washington, 19.

Mrs. Nanneen Dyson, 42, mother-in-law of Mrs. McGrady.

Johnson Warns Allies France Imperils NATO

President Expresses Confidence 14 Nations Will Preserve Alliance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson warned the Atlantic Allies today that President Charles de Gaulle's efforts to reform their alliance could imperil the security of France and endanger the safety of the Western world.

While he expressed confidence that the United States and 13 allies will stick together to preserve NATO, Johnson said: "If our collective effort should falter — and our common determination be eroded — the foundations of the alliance's present stability would be shaken."

Not Mentioned

Johnson never mentioned De Gaulle by name in his first public response by him since the French president served notice three weeks ago that he intends to pull his military forces out of NATO, oust NATO military headquarters from France and re-cover control of U.S. and Allied NATO bases on French territory.

Johnson spoke at the State Department to an audience of Foreign Service officers. Twenty-four hours earlier he had sent a personal message to De Gaulle, responding to an earlier letter from De Gaulle setting forth De Gaulle's policies on the future of NATO.

The split between Johnson and De Gaulle on the NATO issue is complete. De Gaulle wants to dismantle the NATO military system and preserve only the Atlantic Alliance pledge of 15 allies to help each other in case of attack. Johnson said the military system is an essential part of deterring aggression.

Work Together
Johnson said NATO reform should be accomplished by the Allies working together, seeking to improve rather than to dismantle the defense system.

"Consultation, not isolation, is the route to reform," he said. "It was evident his reference to 'isolation' was meant to apply to De Gaulle."

The chief executive said at the outset that "we do not believe there is any righteousness in standing pat" on NATO.

He added: "If any organization is alive and vital — if it is to have meaning for all time as well as for any particular time

— it must grow and respond and yield to change."

Then, in what amounted to a rather mildly phrased lecture to De Gaulle, Johnson asserted:

"Of course NATO should adapt to the changing needs of the times. But we believe just as firmly that such change must be wrought by the member nations working with one another within the alliance. Consultation, not isolation, is the route to reform."

Common Danger

The chief executive said all 15 NATO nations share a common danger — division — and can share one safety in unity.

Johnson at one point appealed to De Gaulle, in effect, to reconsider his independent posture, saying:

"We are hopeful that no member of the treaty will long remain withdrawn from the mutual affairs and obligations of the Atlantic. A place of respect and responsibility will await the ally who decides to return to the common task."

Expressing a firm conviction that NATO offers the best assurance of avoiding war in the Atlantic world, Johnson said:

"If our collective efforts should falter — and our common determination be eroded — the foundation of the Atlantic's present stability would be shaken."

He said that was the lesson of two world wars.

Blizzard Proportions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A spring snowstorm rapidly developing into blizzard proportions lashed into western Wisconsin today.

The Weather Bureau warned that similar conditions would spread across the state by tonight.

Winds were gusting to 50 miles an hour as the temperatures sagged to the mid and upper 20s. The four to six inches of snow that fell in the pre-dawn hours forced the closing of Interstate 94 from Eau Claire to Hudson in St. Croix County.

Sander trucks were stuck on the highway. Highway 12 from Eau Claire to Black River Falls was barely passable this morning with zero visibility. The State Traffic Patrol said: "You can't see anything."

Roads Closed

Rural roads in Eau Claire County were closed.

Winds in the western part of Wisconsin were blowing steadily at 20 miles per hour today and were expected to increase to as much as 40 during the day and tonight.

The center of the storm area that was whipping through the upper Midwest was in southwestern Wisconsin this morning. Heavy lightning and thunder accompanied the snow in many areas along the storm front. And there was considerable rain in the southern part of Wisconsin prior to the arrival of snow.

La Crosse had 1.60 inches of liquid precipitation by daybreak today. The southwestern area near Dubuque, Iowa, recorded 1.10 inches. Lone Rock and

Green Bay had .85 and Beloit

In the Milwaukee area rainfall ranged up to .84 of an inch.

The Weather Bureau announced today that the heavy rain of Tuesday night will produce flooding along the Kickapoo, Pine and Baraboo Rivers. All persons living or doing business along the rivers were urged to take immediate precautions. The flooding was expected to come between today and Friday.

Pope, Anglican Leader Meet For First Time in 500 Years

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A the Church of Canterbury, Pope of the Roman Catholic Church and an Archbishop of Ramsey, primate of the world's Canterbury met officially today for the first time in more than five centuries, voiced hopes for Christian unity and world peace, and embraced.

"You rebuild a bridge which for centuries has lain fallen between the Church of Rome and the Church of Canterbury," may be increasing dialogue, Dr. Ramsey said.

The two met in the 16th century chapel where the Pope was elected in June 1963. It was the first time the pontiff had used the chapel to receive a visitor.

There was a deep hush in the chapel, as the 68-year-old pontiff and the 61-year-old archbishop rose from their chairs, turned to each other and embraced.

Expect Approval Of Added Funds For Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House is expected to give final congressional approval and send to President Johnson today an emergency $13.1-billion appropriation bill to help pay for the stepped-up war in Viet Nam.

The bill's money figure — the exact amount requested by the President — is not in dispute. The House voted the funds last week but the Senate, in giving its 87-2 approval Tuesday, added a minor amendment.

The amendment would limit Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's authority to transfer funds in support of South Vietnamese and other Allied troops.

"But charity can, and must, be exercised between us, and show forth its strength," the Pope said. "It is my hope, and the hope of Your Holiness, too, that there

Oppose Saigon Rule

New Demonstrations Crop Up in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — New antigovernment demonstrations erupted in Da Nang and Hue today, intensifying the political dispute between Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime and the Buddhist leadership. For the first time there were anti-American overtones.

Ten thousand persons milled about the city hall in Hue, the old imperial capital. Some carried banners attacking the United States for supporting Ky's military rule.

However, one knot of demonstrators carried a banner saying: "We thank our American friends for helping us fight the Viet Cong."

Locked Doors
American and Vietnamese employees at the nearby U.S. Information Service building hastily locked doors and hid equipment as rumors flew that the demonstrators might sack the center.

Two thousand persons attended an antigovernment rally in Da Nang amid another general strike that closed most shops in the northern military center.

The flurry of new agitation for ouster of the Saigon government took the spotlight from the fighting fronts. Another 100 bodies were found today by U.S. Marines at the scene of their battle with two Communist battalions about 70 miles south of Da Nang on Monday.

Enemy Toll
The dead brought the enemy toll claimed by the Leathernecks in their four-day Operation Texas in Quang Ngai Province, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, to 358 killed. The freshly dug graves were discovered in the village of Phon Dinh.

Another 99 Communists killed and 8 captured were reported

Attorney Says Beer License OK for Market

Council Queries Bid of Firm at Site Near School

There appears to be no legal barrier to the city issuing a beer license to a supermarket within 300 feet of a northeast-side school building, City Atty. Frederick E. Froehlich said Tuesday night.

Froehlich told the city council's welfare-ordinance committee that state law did regulate the location of establishments holding liquor licenses.

In an opinion, requested by the committee, Froehlich said the selling of beer did not fall within the jurisdiction of the statute prohibiting intoxicating beverages from being sold within 300 feet of a school, church or hospital.

The committee, with Ald. Norman Beyer (20th) dissenting, recommended approval of issuing a beer license to Food Queen, a new supermarket opening at 2702 N. Oneida St.

The store is located across the street from Fox Valley Lutheran High School.

Originally when the license application was received, Police Chief Earl O. Wolff raised the question whether a beer license could be issued that close to a school building and asked for clarification.

"I'm just asking the question out loud whether it is good to sell beer that close to a school," Ald. Beyer said. "What is there to prevent students from getting a six-pack during the noon hour?"

Ald. Glenn Thompson (13th) said he didn't think there was much difference if beer was sold 300 or 600 feet from a school building.

"If they want to get it (beer), they will walk six blocks to get it if they have to," Thompson remarked.

Thompson said if it had been a request for permission to have a beer bar next door to the school, that would be a different matter and would mean trouble.

"It seems to be an unusual law," Froehlich declared. "You can have a beer bar next to a church but not a place where liquor is being sold."

age probably will double under Medicare. He anticipates the costs of operating the hospital will increase as more help will be needed, and that it will take 50 to 55 days to get payment under Medicare.

"The state average for the cost of operating a hospital has been running at 6 per cent, while it has been running 3 to 5 per cent here," Platte said. "However," he pointed out, "if the minimum wage rate goes up, a 6 per cent increase won't mean a thing. The cost increases would then be reflected in the room rate increase."

Two members of the bargaining board of Local 815, Allied Industrial Workers, AFL-CIO, (from FWD Corp.) attended the meeting. They were Irving Burdick and Al Kitzman.

Auxiliary Activities
A report was given on the activities of the hospital auxiliary. The auxiliary opened its membership to individuals last year and now has 12 parent organizations and 28 individual memberships. Previously the auxiliary was made up of three representative organizations from various civic organizations.

Various ways and means of reducing the auxiliary's debt due to the purchase of a whirlpool for over $600 were undertaken, the report said.

At the next meeting of the auxiliary on April 11, a president and vice president will be elected to fill the unexpired terms of Mrs. Roger Davis and Mrs. Dale Leander, who have moved from Clintonville. Leadership has been carried on by the secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Frank McIntyre and Mrs. Russell.

Little Chute Post Office Moves April 2

LITTLE CHUTE. The Little Chute post office will be moved to 524 Grand Ave. about April 2, back to a building which served the community as a post office about 25 years ago, according to Norbert Kilsdonk.

The move is a temporary arrangement while the postal department investigates other possible sites for a building. The lease on the present post office building has expired and the owner desires the space for other purposes. The facility has been located on Pine Street for the past 10 years.

The new site has 13,000 square feet of floor space compared to 15,000 in the existing building, both deemed inadequate to meet the village requirements. The new site will be leased by the postal department on a month to month basis until suitable quarters can be found, according to Kilsdonk.

Catholics Told Christians Must be Apostles in World

Persons attending the parish mission at St. Mary Catholic Church were told Tuesday of the importance of a Christian to be an apostle.

The two Paulist priests who are conducting the mission noted that a true Christian has a responsibility to witness his faith in the world, and to do whatever he can to bring people to love God by their example and their interest.

"In the United States," Rev. Walter Anthony said, "we have almost 100 million people who are not churchgoers. This makes America one of the largest mission fields in the world. We Christians have a challenge to reach these today."

good people so they too can enjoy the freedom we have in faith and hope in the promises of Christ."

Rev. Wilfred Brimley, C.S.P., who is one of the two missionaries conducting the services, will speak on the subject of the "Sacred Liturgy" today.

Why Pope John chose the liturgy as the first topic to be discussed by the world wide gathering of bishops, and the reason a full participation in the liturgy will bring about renewal.

Walter Anthony said, "we have within the Catholic Church, and almost 100 million people who are not churchgoers. This makes America one of the largest mission fields in the world. We Christians have a challenge to reach these today."

Need Cited for More Land For Water Plant Expansion

Appleton Unit Recommends Purchase of Utility Property

More land is needed before the municipal water plant can be expanded in conjunction with a proposed lake pipeline project, the Appleton Water Commission Commissioner Peter DeLain.

Commissioners said if they knew other Fox Valley communities would be ready to participate in a cooperative pipeline to Lake Michigan within five years, they would hesitate to proceed with a major plant expansion at this time.

However, they felt the cities along Lake Winnebago had too much invested in pumping and filtration plants to give them up now.

The commission indicated this area would have a raw water pipeline to Lake Michigan sometime in the future, and when a filtration plant was needed, it probably would be constructed somewhere around Manitowish to serve the entire Valley.

City officials have been talking about Lake Winnebago being the temporary solution to the water demand problem. They say Winnebago should serve local needs for the next 10 to 20 years and are hopeful Lake Michigan will be in the picture by then.

Unusual Water Taste Par for Course
The unusual taste Appleton residents have noticed in drinking water in recent days is par for the course for this time of the year, Water Supt. William Gallaher said Monday.

"We've had some complaints but nothing like last month when we had the heavy rain and early thaw which caused considerable runoff," Gallaher said.

Appleton still obtains its water from the Fox River and with the spring thaw in progress, additional chemical treatment is required - resulting in the taste variation bag, plus expansion of the pumping and filtration facilities at 337 W. Water St.

Present Capacity

The present pumping capacity at the plant is 13 million gallons per day and water department officials are concerned about its adequacy.

"There are times when we are pumping more than 12 million gallons a day now," remarked Robert DeLand, commission chairman. "I would hate to think of what might happen if we had a major fire on one of our peak pumpage days."

William Gallaher, water department superintendent, said land is what was needed most now for any expansion aimed at meeting the long-range water demands in the community. He didn't think the water department would have any use for power company buildings, however.

Possible Expansion

He said the water plant could be expanded with existing city-owned land but only enough to boost the pumpage by 5 million gallons - making for an 18 million gallon maximum output.

"But we all know this wouldn't be enough by a long shot," DeLand added.

He said the Chicago consultant working on the water plant plans said if the city could acquire the power company land it would provide area for an expansion which would enable the city to install additional filters to boost daily pumping capacity to 43 to 45 million gallons.

Future Needs
"In 15 to 20 years we will be needing that much capacity on the basis of all the predictions I have seen," DeLand said.

Commissioners also touched briefly on the possibility of some day relocating the water department office at 125 N. Walnut St. but indicated there were no present plans to do so.

LBJ Minimizes Labor's Break With Democrats

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is not the man to magnify in public any differences with individuals or groups so long as he thinks there may be a chance to persuade them to return to camp.

This does much to explain Johnson's easy manner Tuesday when a girl reporter at an impromptu news conference asked about the recent statement of George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

Meany had said in the future the huge labor organization would not be allied with either Democrats or Republicans. Johnson told the questioner she was apparently more distressed about this than he was.

Union Independent
But there was something Johnson could hardly forget even as he tried to make the best of an unhappy situation by saying that in his view the AFL-CIO has always been independent and should be.

The labor organization backed

him in the 1964 presidential race and the AFL-CIO backed Democratic presidential candidates in election after election for years.

The AFL-CIO support is a very big and important help to the Democrats.

But now it is irritated with the Democrats and Meany is disenchanted with them, as he explained in a very emphatic and biting way. It was enough to give Democrats some chills about this year's congressional elections.

Meany blasted the Democrats for failing to deliver on promises and laid down political independence as a goal for the AFL-CIO although it has backed the Democratic party for more than a generation.

Can't Deliver

In recent years, besides 1964 the AFL-CIO endorsed the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, 1956 and 1960.

But Meany suggested labor return to the policy of one of its early leaders, Samuel Gompers, supporting individual candidates on their voting records regardless of party, rather than political parties.

At the moment labor has two big gripes.

But Meany noted that the one who led the filibuster to keep section 14B in the law was the Republicans' Senate leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. Meany called him the "new darling of the conservatives."

2 The attempt by the Johnson administration to limit wage increases to 3.2 per cent, which was the figure set down as a guideline by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

There has been some talk within labor's ranks of setting up a labor party in this country but Meany wants no part of that, saying a third party is not the solution.

If the Johnson administration figured it had the AFL-CIO in its pocket, the Meany statement may disillusion it a bit and — this may have been Meany's purpose — stare it into paying more attention to labor's demands.

What the administration does from now on to satisfy labor will be more revealing than the President's easy, casual comment Tuesday.

University or Monument?

A dispatch Sunday from our Madison bureau setting off the latest projections for enrollment in state-supported institutions of higher learning contained a startling paragraph down in the body of the story.

Springing of the new university to be established in this area, it said: "Planning for the northeastern campus has barely begun among the policy decisions to be made. Whether the school will be planned for commuters only, or for residents who will need dormitory accommodations as well. Current thinking is that the school will be built to accommodate both classes of students, probably in roughly equal ratios. But there are many uncertain factors in such calculations, including economic conditions."

Now the truth is starting to come out. We had supposed this decision had been made by the legislature when it established the two new universities. But we became more confused as the site selection process proceeded. The University of Wisconsin regents mentioned that possibly 20 to 30 per cent of the enrollment would require dormitory housing. Later the Coordinating Committee cited a figure of 60 to 80 per cent.

And now the CCHE staff report declares that no policy decision has been made.

We were innocent enough to suppose that a basic decision on what kind of institution this is to be would be made before the committee started evaluating sites. We assumed that the intent of the legislature would be observed.

And that's why we were so confounded, along with everyone else in the area we might add, when the Shorewood Site was selected.

The assemblyman who served as chairman of the site selection committee, Glenn Pommerening, made a speech back in January before the Building Commission, of which he is a member, in which he called for a moratorium on any further buildings for universities until the Coordinating Committee came out with a master plan for the future development of higher education facilities in the state.

Now we are beginning to realize what Pommerening was driving at, even though he has been strangely silent on the subject since he became involved in the site selection procedure.

One of the purposes legal action by Outagamie County can serve is to bring the secret records of the site selection committee out into public view and if possible determine upon what basis the committee made its recommendation.

Up until now all we could do was speculate. The committee's report was hardly factual, and the answers members gave the Coordinating Committee and the Building Commission only confused the situation further.

Now we are given the fact that the Coordinating Committee doesn't know yet whether the new university is going to serve commuters. This explains to some degree why such an inaccessible site was selected.

The reason the site was picked is becoming increasingly obvious. It's a beautiful place where State Architect James Galbraith can build a memorial monument to President Fred Harrington.

FDA Tightens Controls on Drugs

There have been some considerable changes in the Food and Drug Administration in the last few weeks and it appears that there will be more. The new commissioner, Dr. James Goddard, has already indicated that he considers the role of the F.D.A. to be more than merely accepting the testimony of drug manufacturers that their products are completely safe and efficacious.

Actually Dr. Goddard has said that he does not intend that the F.D.A. move into the drug testing field. This is the responsibility of the drug manufacturers and the government must depend "upon the inherent honesty and integrity of the pharmaceutical industry." But Goddard's orders on procedures of the F.D.A. and changing the classification of some drugs under its control show that he also believes that neither the drug makers nor physicians should have too much latitude in determining all prescriptions or what can be sold without prescription.

In 1938 the F.D.A. began to screen drugs after the tragic deaths of more than 100 people who had been given an improperly prepared sulfa mixture. In 1962, after many children had been born deformed because their mothers had taken thalidomide, tighter procedures were ordered. This included new laws specifying that a drug must not only be harmless but do what it is claimed to do. Until this spring, however, the procedures were not changed very much. But two weeks ago, hundreds of brands of antibiotic lozenges, available without prescription, were banned, not because they did any one any harm but because they didn't do any good either and did not cure sore throats as claimed.

More recently Dr. Goddard has announced that all drugs approved as safe by the F.D.A. between 1938 and 1962 must now be proved effective as well. There are more than 3,000 compounds involved and it will be up to the drug manufacturers to show that the products do what they are supposed to do.

In addition, sixteen drugs, including tranquilizers, stimulants and drugs causing hallucinations have been placed under special control along with other stimulants and sedatives already in that category. This is expected to be particularly effective in controlling excessive use of the drugs either with or without a prescription.

As Dr. Goddard has pointed out, the tightening of the agency's controls does not really mean lack of confidence in the integrity of either the drug industry or the medical profession. But he does feel that it is the responsibility of the F.D.A. to protect the public from what could be—and sometimes has been—overeagerness to promote a particular compound in a highly competitive business. There is also the need to protect the public from unnecessarily being used as guinea pigs. This is not an easy balance to maintain since the effects of drugs upon animals other than human beings are not necessarily indicative of the extent of the drug's effects and experiments must sometimes go on for a long period of time. Currently, certain birth control pills are now coming under a second scrutiny in some medical quarters although they had been declared both safe and efficacious. But even the judgment of physicians gets out of whack as indicated by the testing of the body's rejection of implanted cancer cells in one eastern hospital without anyone telling the patients what was really involved.

At this time the tighter controls put into effect by Dr. Goddard would appear to be justified even though the agency has grown from 700 employees to 5,400 in 12 years with a similar increase in expenditures. There have been abuses, not only of the right use of various drugs, especially in the sedative, tranquilizer and stimulant field, but of the public's tendency to believe whatever the label says.

Just an Inter-Service Fracas?

Ordinary civilians sometimes get a little annoyed about reports of competition among the branches of the United States military. It does not always seem to be the most efficient or effective way of developing a nation's defense, particularly when petty jealousies occasionally appear to take precedence over sound military principles. Naturally members of all three commands take firm exception to this point of view.

But look what's happened in Indonesia! Last fall there was an alleged Communist plot to take over the government. Six army generals were murdered before the army managed to gain control. Back and forth the verbal and occasionally physical struggle was waged with charges made of Communist influence in various quarters.

Or was it merely a fight between the Indonesian army and air force?

Last October the head of the air force, Vice-Marshal Dhana, was doing all right until the army took control. Then Dhana headed for Cambodia and he hasn't come back. This week his successor, Vice-Marshal Suryadama, was arrested. In addition all planes of the air force had their engines removed or their tires slashed by the army just to be sure they didn't come to their chief's rescue or make trouble for the army head. General Suharto, who has been keeping President Sukarno in "protective custody" behind a ring of tanks. Suharto hasn't forgotten that several times Sukarno has escaped various pataces by means of air force helicopters.

Suharto says that Suryadama is a Communist and that Sukarno was misled. But we'll just bet the Indonesian army develops its own fleet of planes and merges its military branches once and for all.

Madison, March 21, 1866.—Bills have become laws to authorize roads from Appleton to Stockbridge; from Appleton to the U.S. Military Road near Nicolai's; from Appleton to Maple Grove in Manitowoc County.

Also, bill approved to authorize C. P. Riggs to improve Black Creek and declare it navigable; another bill to amend the Appleton city charter.

The other Outagamie County local bills, I believe, are well in hand toward an early passage, although I have heard a blind hint of some

American Bar Doing Good Work In Drive to Expose Communism

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR
America's leading lawyers are doing yeomanly work in a vital job. We owe our thanks to the American Bar Association.

It designed and supports a Standing Committee on Education Against Communism.

This carefully planned co-

operative project conducts programs to train high-school, college and university teachers to give adequate instruction on the contrast between communism and liberty under law.

It exposes Communist tactics, strategy and objectives here and abroad. It points out that the arguments and differences between Moscow and Peking are basically concerned with the problem: Which is the best way to bury the free world and erect a Red world?

ODD-BALL CULTS
The Standing Committee supports such sobering studies as Dr. Richard V. Allen's "Peaceful Coexistence: A Communist Blueprint for Victory." This is based on a certified examination, "right from the horse's mouth," so to speak, of about 11,000 pages of current Red literature. It also deals with the odd-ball cults among our youth.

It makes starkly clear why the Communists push for "coalitions." It shows that this, along with "peaceful coexistence" as defined by the Communists, is their established take-over strategy.

The American Bar Association effort in a long-term effort. But it seems to me several developments give it great urgency.

President Johnson's August 5, 1964, statement regarding Viet Nam—"Aggression unleashed" is aggression unleashed"—worried the Communist parties of the world because he backed it up by retaliation in the Gulf of Tonkin. His action was counteraction. And counteraction is the one thing they fear. The Communist parties of the world went into high gear. We are seeing the fruit of that now.

Their communication belts fed into our "teach-ins" the moral condemnation of anti-Communist governments. They supercharged their push among American opinion makers to preach "coalitions" with the communists and "peaceful." And dupes who do not know this, or prominent people who ignore it, fuel the danger to us enormously.

The political stance chosen by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, for example, shows exactly the need for the Standing Committee's exposures.

Moreover, the Viet Nam aggression typifies the Communist concept of "wars of national liberation." The Red's double-talk sanctifying this type of twilight war produces much confusion about Communist strategy.

Among the others like Senators Fulbright, Morse, etc., who contribute to this confusion, Bobby is the most important because he rides the Kennedy name and because he systematically makes his pseudo-intellectual pitch to the youngest and the least informed.

Yet surely he should know that the Communist parties of the world are now reconstructing popular front "coalitions" with the help of the American far left—to whom Bobby is the current hero—and are sloganizing, as he is, exactly the crop Bobby goes hunting for.

Bobby consistently plays down this influence. Why? Before World War II Communist parties existed in 43 countries and totaled 4.2 million members. Today Communist parties number 90 and the total membership exceeds 42 million.

Their global solidarity and strategy sessions began with the 1955 Bandung Conference in Indonesia. Action delegations from 29 African, Asian and Latin-American countries met there. At the Communist Tri-Continental Congress in Havana (Jan. 3-15) this year, action delegations from 82 countries attended.

NEON MACHINE GUN
The emblem in neon lights on the Havan auditorium portrayed a machine gun (Czech model) clamped to an illuminated globe of the world. The theme added up to an open declaration of war on the United States, the only country the Red enemy fears.

Along with Viet Nam, the Red resolutions castigated President Johnson's Santo Domingo intervention. And what has irrepressible Bobby Kennedy's pitch been on this? On returning from his latest Latin-American trip he stated: "No one I spoke to down there thought we had done the right thing." To whom, may I ask, is Bobby talking these days.

Bobby is jockeying for political position. In contrast, the best defense against communism is to know its methods.

The American Bar Association's effort is dedicated to our national security. It exposes the most important truth of all, namely, that slogans are never a substitute for the facts.

Juvenile Population Explosion Poses State Correctional Problem

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — An ancient bromide of the statehouse beat asserts that the prisons don't have alumni societies and thus tend to be handicapped in getting public legislative attention for their needs in competition with other tax-supported institutions and notably colleges and universities.

Public affairs discussions in

Wyngaard

Wisconsin lately have been dominated by the fiscal implications of population growth and the increases in the birth rate in recent decades which have brought a crisis for the higher education planners. During the next decade or more this state will spend more money on new plant and faculty to accommodate the ever-rising flood of college matriculants than ever before.

Yet it is a melancholy fact that not all of the youngsters now growing up are headed for the comforts and joys of college or other mature educational experience. Some of them are headed for the reformatories, training schools and prisons. The increasing proportion of young people in the general population has also meant a higher number of misfits and delinquents, casualties of poor training and under-privilege, who will also become charges of the state under the criminal laws. This is often at a substantially higher per capita cost than that accounted for by their neighbors and sisters and brothers going to tax-supported colleges.

THE FORECASTS
The sobering implications of such statistical realities are contained in a new report by the State Department, in one of the first long-range plans prepared for the basic public services to prepare them for their responsibilities in future decades.

Corrections institution populations will grow more than three times as fast as the general population in the period ending in 1980, it is asserted, and the number of inmates in the state corrections institutions will double during that period.

Strictly Personal
Our Worst Traits Are the Human Ones
BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS
I heard a speaker recently use Aristotle's definition of man as a "rational animal"—and then the speaker went on to say that it is our task to conquer the animal in us by our rationality.

This is not only an impossible task, it is looking at the problem the wrong way around. For it is precisely our rationality that betrays us, not our animality.

The evils men commit are not those committed by any other animals. We kill when we are not hungry, or even threatened. We make war against our own kind, for abstractions that have nothing to do with our physical (or animal) existence. We continually act against our own self-interest, for reasons of avarice or envy or pride or resentment.

All these, mind you, are not animal traits. They are purely human traits. And they come not because we share a common heritage with the rest of creation, but because we alone have the power to misuse reason.

A recent, and definitive, study of aggression in other animals, including the primates, shows conclusively that their behavior is more sane and sensible than ours. They

As the laity could guess, the most rapid growth will occur among juveniles, which have accounted for the largest categorical population gains during the last decade and more. Today about a fifth of the persons confined to state corrections institutions are juveniles. The ratio will rise. The admissions flow will reflect the changing population density of the state, and notably the most rapid growth in the southeastern triangle. About two-thirds of the criminal court sentences will be in the southeastern Wisconsin counties in 1980, the projections show.

Because the state's reformatories and other institutions are already crowded, in spite of substantial additions to plants during the last decade, the consequences of such population trends are obvious. The report says that plans must be prepared for as many as nine new corrections institutions, even if there are no changes in confinement policy.

Some changes in that policy, moreover, are plainly desirable. Juvenile delinquents are now being confined for only a few months, or about a third of the period thought to be required for training and rehabilitation.

THE COST
In spite of the fact that the state has spent handsomely for reconstruction of old facilities and for new institutions during the last 10 years and more, the fiscal implications of these projected trends are formidable. Moreover, they have not yet been generally recognized by the political policy-makers. The planning report suggests a capital outlay for corrections facilities of about $65 millions during the next decade and a half. There is no more prospect that the legislatures of that period will choose to raise such sums in cash than that they will pay as they go for educational expansion. The debt load will continue to rise and at an accelerated rate.

There is one element of cheer in the corrections situation. The Wisconsin probation and parole system, one of the most liberal in the country, is keeping so many ordinary prisoners from confinement, on the one hand, and releasing them to useful lives, on the other, that the cost outlook is far less onerous than it would be in a state with a more orthodox or conservative approach to crime and delinquency.
